SAN FRANCISCO CLUBMAN ENDS LIFE

Girl Attacked by Vicious Negro and Two Companions

CHILD SCREAMS DESPITE CHOKING

Assailants Flee Before Angry Crowd and Make Good Their Escape

ALONE and defenseless, pretty Kate Roche, the 15-year-old daughter of Billy Roche, the prominent fight referee, was chased and attacked last night at 9 o'clock by a negro at Eighteenth and Grove streets as she was returning from the theater to her home, 409 Castro street.

The assailant was accompanied by two other men who were his conspirators and kept a steady pace with the man who had intended to do bodily harm to the innocent child.

It is believed that the men had concocted a scheme to kidnap their victim.

Chase Begins

At Grove and Eighteenth streets the chase began. Katie heard three men running directly behind her. She turned her head to see who it was, and she saw a burly colored man running, and across the street, keeping fixed eyes on the girl, were two men who were running and giving him signals. They did not appear to be colored, says little Katie, who thought, before she turned around, that someone was playing tag. She stopped for a moment and then the men suddenly paused and she concluded that she had better run, and she ran on to a lawn at Eighteenth and Castro streets. On the lawn she was assailed by the vicious man, who grabbed her by the shoulders and tried to drag her off the lawn. He did succeed in getting her partly off the spot, but she screamed as loudly as she could and attracted the attention of neighbors, who immediately went to her assistance.

All three men disappeared. They ran at a great rate of speed down Castro street toward Seventeenth. They were chased by men who had gone to the rescue of the child.

"When I was about three years old I was attacked by a man in New York who attempted to kidnap me," said Katie, when seen at her home this morning, "and the accident last night reminded me of the incident in the Eastern city.

"I do not think I could identify the man."

SON IS COURTING DEATH; FATHER IS DEAD

Blows Out His Brains in Agony Over Attempt of Youth

LAD IS STILL ALIVE, BUT PARENT IS DEAD

Youth Is in San Francisco While Father Dies at Tacoma

TACOMA, Feb. 15.—Brooding over the attempted suicide of his son, now slowly recovering from a self-inflicted wound in a San Francisco hospital, Carl Eggert chose the same exit from life last night in a Pacific avenue hotel and shot himself in precisely the same manner his son had done, though with immediately fatal effect.

Eggert had remained in his room all day and refused to allow his door to be opened. While a policeman stood on a step ladder outside, looking through the glass transom, and three others stood near, he sent a pistol ball through his left temple. In a conversation with the bluecoats he declared his son had taken his own life a short time ago in San Francisco.

Herbert Eggert, the son, is still alive in the southern city, after having attempted suicide on the steamer Queen on February 10, while the vessel was just outside the Golden Gate.

5 MORE WOMEN WOUNDED BY 'RIPPER'

Mysterious and Brutal Attacks of Unknown Fiend Continue in Berlin

GIRL WARDS OFF KNIFE AND HAS HAND CUT

Majority of Those Wounded Are From Members of Working Class

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—The mysterious attacks upon women on the streets of this city, recalling the notorious "ripper" cases of other cities, continue. Five women of the working class were stabbed in the city and suburbs yesterday, while this morning the wife of a merchant was wounded by an unknown assailant. None of the women were seriously hurt.

The first attack occurred in the Moabite quarter at 9 o'clock yesterday on the open street. The assailant stabbed his victim in the upper part of the arm. Another woman was wounded in the thigh yesterday in the north section of the city. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a girl was attacked in the eastern section. She warded off the blow with her hand, which was wounded. In the evening the "ripper" attacked a butcher's wife in the suburb of Hohenschoen.

SAFE-CRACKERS ARE FOILED BY POLICE

Bluecoat Jones Breaks up Scheme of Bandits in Robbing Shop

FIRES BULLET AFTER FLEETING DESPERADO

Crooks Leave Implements Behind; Believed to Be Ambitious Amateurs

Safe crackers were intercepted last night while in the act of attempting to blow open the safe of H. Thiry, a butcher, 877 San Pablo avenue, by Policeman W. R. Jones at 1:40 o'clock this morning. One of the crooks was chased several blocks by the policeman, who fired a shot at the fleeting cracksman but was unable to bring him down. The other safe breaker made his escape while the police officer was in pursuit of his companion.

Jones was patrolling his beat as usual when he observed a man in front of the butcher shop acting in a suspicious manner, as if he were on a lookout for some one inside. The policeman hastened his steps and as he approached the butcher shop the man outside gave a signal and then ran.

Officer Hot on Trail

The police officer took after the fleeting figure but was unable to overtake him. Failing in this Jones telephoned police headquarters and Captain Bock and Policeman Hunley responded in the police automobile. A hasty investigation of the butcher shop revealed the fact that the safe had been bored preparatory to putting dynamite into it. Before this could be accomplished, however, the crooks were frightened away. A sledge hammer which was used in breaking the inner door of the safe, a chisel and a brace and bit were found near the safe. An umbrella belonging to one of the cracksmen was found in the rear yard, indicating that the owner's flight was so hasty that he did not stop for his property.

All of the safe breaking implements and the umbrella have been taken to police headquarters for identification purposes.

It is thought by the police that the cracksmen were possibly ambitious amateurs. The attempted safeblowing took place very early in the morning while there were still a few belated pedestrians on the street. The safe was in the front part of the shop and any one passing could not but have seen what was going on inside.

The sledge hammer and other tools were stolen from a nearby blacksmith shop.

TRAP BURGLAR ON ROOF; MADE PRISONER

Flees Before Volley of Shots, Leaping From Building to Building

SURRENDERS RATHER THAN JUMP 30 FEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Caught like a rat in a trap at the edge of a narrow roof thirty feet above the ground after many shots had been fired at him, and after he had been chased over the tops of a number of houses, a man giving the name of James Whellihan, was arrested shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, and charged with attempted burglary.

Detective Tracy of the Harbor station, while walking on Drumm street, saw a man attempting to break into the back entrance of Morgen's clothing store, 14 Clay street. At sight of him, the would-be burglar climbed up the side of the building to the roof, evidently hoping to avoid detection. Thinking that the officer had not seen him he proceeded to try to break into the place through the skylight.

Caught in Trap

Policemen W. C. Casey and D. J. Collins were sent to the top of an adjoining building by Tracy, who stood guard below. Whellihan saw them coming, and ran along the slippery roof from one building to another, disregarding the order to throw up his hands and surrender. The officers fearing that they would stumble and fall in the darkness, fired several shots, but the burglar refused to surrender until all hope of escaping to the ground seemed impossible. He was finally caught on the narrow lane, below the sloping side of a roof, after he had looked over and carefully measured his chances of coming out alive, if he dared to drop to terra firma.

Mrs. Mabel Humphrey Is Married in the City of Rome

ROME, Feb. 15.—The marriage of Mrs. Mabel Humphrey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Kergan, of Oakland, Cal., to George Loudon, of Minneapolis, Minn., was solemnized in Rome on Sunday, January 24. The ceremony occurred in the English-speaking church of San Silvestro, Father Whitman, the rector, officiating. As witnesses, Miss Mary Moran and Miss Diamond, formerly of Oakland, were present. The bride, in company with Miss Moran, left Oakland last September for a European tour. Her engagement was known only to the family and the date of the wedding ceremony had not been fixed at that time. Immediately following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Loudon left for a wedding tour of France and the British Isles. The groom has interests in the recently opened mining districts of Vernon and Seven Troughs, Nevada.

GRIEF OVER HIS WIFE'S DEATH IS CAUSE

George Bowers, Draughtsman for Engineering Company Ends Life

FATALLY SHOOTS SELF IN SAN FRANCISCO

Leaves Note Asking That His Baby Be Taken Care of by Friends

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Grief over the death of his wife and with his mind weakened by overwork, George Bowers, chief draughtsman for the Western Engineering and Construction Company, this morning shortly before 10 o'clock fired a shot through his left temple in the lavatory on the tenth floor of the Monadnock building at Third and Market streets. He is not expected to live.

The noise of the shot attracted Janitor G. T. Young. He burst open the locked door and found the body of the young engineer lying face downward in a pool of blood. In the left hand a still smoking revolver was clutched.

Young summoned assistance and the Harbor Hospital ambulance was called. Office attaches, Young and Police Officer Job Jordan carried the unconscious man into the elevator and were dropped to the ground floor.

The ambulance arrived quickly and the man was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital. There physicians worked on the patient for an hour and a half probing for the bullet, which entered the left temple. The doctors state that Bowers' condition is very critical, and little hope is held out for his recovery.

Note Is Found

On the floor next to where the body was found, Janitor Young discovered a note addressed to R. A. Orret, manager of the Western Engineering and Construction Company. It reads as follows:

"My head is wrong, Reg. Look after my business for baby. Good-bye.
"GEORGE."

The baby mentioned is Bowers' little girl. The child is in the care of his folks in England, who are well-to-do people and occupy a prominent position in society.

Bowers himself is a well-known clubman of this city. Friends have been rushing to the hospital in a stream all morning, but no one is allowed to see the patient, as his condition is too critical.

About a year ago Bowers lost his wife, and since then has been grieving continually. On the advice of friends he threw himself into a whirl of active business life, hoping to forget his sorrow. In this he overestimated his strength and his mind became weakened. Bowers has been with the Western Engineering and Construction Company for the last five years, but working only now and again.

After his wife's death he assumed the position of chief draughtsman, and worked almost continually, hoping to forget his grief.

His Own Revolver

The revolver used by Bowers in his attempt on his life was a 38 Smith & Wesson, one which he always carried with him. Three chambers of the gun had been filled, and one of them was emptied.

Bowers' home in this city is at 611 Cole street. He is 35 years of age. He has been removed to the Lane Hospital.

TALESMAN WULZEN TELLS OF VISITS MADE TO HIM

Promised Sensation Did Not Materialize When the Challenging of Jurors Began in Calhoun Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Everybody wore an air of importance in the Calhoun trial this afternoon, and there was a buzz and bustle at the hour of the session that spoke volumes for the importance of the proceedings. The spectators' side of the court room was packed with people, and the crowd soon overflowed to the corridor beyond.

The defendant himself was the first to put in an appearance, and he was followed almost at once by the Moores and Attorneys William M. Abbott and Earl Rogers. The latter carried a large bundle of transcripts, which he began to peruse as soon as he had seated himself. Thornwall Mullally was also on deck, and chatted for several moments with Mr. Calhoun before the hearing began. Heney, looking in the best of health, came next, accompanied by William J. Burns and his own two bodyguards. Last of all appeared Assistant District Attorney O'Gara, who proceeded at once to confer eagerly with Heney, both looking questioningly toward the jury box.

The session began promptly at 2 o'clock, but the court proceeded first to question several talesmen who had not answered to their names during the personal examination held this morning.

Spring Sensation

This matter having been concluded, the expected Wulzen sensation was sprung, but it was not as bad as reported, the alleged improper not having interviewed the juror himself.

"Mr. Wulzen, you made a statement on Thursday last to the coun . Will you

NEEDLE SHE SAT ON WORKS THROUGH BODY TO HEART

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Feb. 15.—Seven months ago Miss Martha Mijia of this city sat upon a needle and physicians were unable to extract it. Today doctors say she is rapidly nearing death, which will come as soon as the needle pierces her heart. It is now within a fraction of an inch of her heart, as viewed by the X-rays. An operation is impossible.

SLAYS WOMAN WHO REFUSED TO WED HIM

Kills His Dead Brother's Widow and Ends His Own Life With Pistol

Two Children Who See Mother Shot Escape Being Murdered by Fleeing

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 15—Louis Land who shot and killed his sister-in-law in the presence of her two children 444 Larkin place late last night died at the Central Emergency Hospital at 5 30 this morning from the effects of the two bullets which he fired into his head with suicidal intent

The tragedy occurred at 10 15 o clock when Mrs Land returned home from the Washington Square Theater accompanied by her children John aged 7, and Anna, aged 17 The family recently moved here from Chicago where Mrs Land lost her husband four years ago

Children Escape

It is claimed that the brother-in-law had been supported by the woman for some time past and that he had frequently asked her to marry him She however steadfastly refused and the climax came last evening when the two had a dispute just before Mrs Land took the two children to the theater It is supposed that the murderer planned the deed while they were away and deliberately purchased the revolver with the intention of ending the lives not only of the woman and himself but the two children Only the fact that the latter made their escape before he had a chance to use his weapon prevented them from sharing the fate of their mother

ARE READY NOW TO SELECT REAL CALHOUN TRIAL JURORS

repeat it now?' asked Judge Lawlor

"Mr Bacon called on me last Thursday morning and told me that some former customer of mine was trying to get me disqualified from serving on this jury and said I had been making statements about the case "said the talesman 'He told me that this man expected to get a situation if he could have me disqualified'

"Mr Bacon is here this morning' put in Moore

"Does either side desire to examine the jury?' queried the court

'Yes,' replied Heney

'How long have you known Mr Bacon?' questioned the prosecutor

Told of Visits

"I've known him since I have been in business out there since the fire, was the answer

"What is his occupation?'

"He's a furniture polisher'

'By whom is he employed?"

'By the Hayward Furniture Company'

"A Mr Hayward'

"When did Bacon call upon you?'

"The last day of the court's session in the morning'

'Has anyone else called upon you?'

"No sir"

'What was said to you in this conversation?"

Wulzen here repeated his statement made at the opening of the proceedings and volunteered the information that he had made a remark at one time that it looks as though they're all going to be convicted' He also asserted that by Bacon's description he knew who the man was that his son was a messenger boy, and that he lives above a restaurant

Man Present

Heney asked who the individual was and Attorney Stanley Moore interrupted

'To save time your honor we have the man present in court Mr Hunter, will you stand up?

The juror then said regarding Hunter, in reply to Heney's query

I have seen him once or twice on the street drunk, but not to speak to him'

Later he added that Hunter had said that a Mr Ford assured him, or intimated to him, that he could get a situation with the United Railroads if he could get one other man to testify with him regarding Wulzen's opinion

When Heney had finished his examination, Attorney Earl Rogers began to question and it developed that he had had a conversation with Mr Bacon this morning at breakfast time and again at 1 o'clock this afternoon Further query brought out the fact that the juror had an opinion that all of the so-called graft defendants were guilty and had said 'I believe the whole crowd will be convicted'

Challenged By Moore

Wulzen also admitted that he believed that the Supervisors had received money, and Attorney Stanley Moore challenged him for cause

The attorney then added that he desired to call as witnesses both Bacon and Hunter if the court would permit him, and Heney said he would insist on questioning them

William R Bacon was then placed on the stand and interrogated closely

The witness said he lived at the California State Hotel 176 Third street and had seen Wulzen's picture in the paper Thursday morning He was sitting at a table eating his breakfast at the time and claims to have remarked aloud

'If Wulzen's on that jury he will convict Mr Calhoun as sure as hell'

This exclamation was heard by A Hunter, who later took Bacon to his room and showed him a card belonging to George I Ford asking Hunter to bring Wulzen to his office at 9 o'clock

Was Good Friend

The witness who professed a great friendship for Mr Wulzen said also that he had heard the juror express opinions regarding the guilt of all the graft defendants Ruef and Schmitz and the Supervisors, but that Calhoun's name had not been mentioned

Bacon declared further that Wulzen had told him that he had an opinion but that he could set it aside and try the case fairly and impartially He was asked to identify Mr Ford, who sat behind the defense's tables

'Did you see this gentleman last night?' questioned Moore

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

When he asked you about your testimony last night did you not say to him that you did not think it would be necessary as Mr Wulzen had been thinking about the matter and would get off himself as he had expressed an opinion?'

'Yes, sir'

Saw Wulzen

"Did you see Mr Wulzen this morning?'

'Yes sir'

'When was that?'

'Well I was sitting eating my breakfast this morning and Mr Wulzen showed me a paper with an article about himself'

Did he bring the paper over to you?"

'Yes sir'

'Did you see Mr Wulzen at 1 o'clock?"

'Yes sir'

'You went there after leaving my office?'

'Yes sir'

"Why did you go?"

'I hadn't had my lunch I wanted a cup of coffee'

What did he say to you?'

'Oh there was only some trifling remark made

Talked With Bacon

Bacon said too that about the time of the Ruef trial Wulzen had asserted that all of the people under indictment should be in jail

Asked by Moore as to whether the juror had not made the same statement a number of times while he was eating in the restaurant, Bacon said he had, and also added that Wulzen had put it in quite forceful terms

Moore here then concluded his questioning and Heney began

Asked by Ford

The attorney for the people wanted to know whether the witness could remember the exact conversation held with Wulzen but Bacon could not remember the actual words of the juror He was sure however, that Wulzen had said that he thought those under indictment were all guilty, and he was almost positive that he had added that he thought they ought to all go to jail as well

Heney next proceeded to inquire how Bacon happened to go to Mr Moore's office this morning and received the information that Ford had requested him to come

Morning Session

Thorough Investigation

In view of the declaration made by Judge Lawlor that any person who thus questioned jurors should be severely dealth with and the demand of Special Prosecutor Heney and Attorney Stanley Moore that a thorough investigation be held, when a similar matter was last brought to the attention of the court, a certain inquiry into the affair and drastic measures for locating the offenders may be expected

Attorney Lewis Byington who was the only attorney representing the defense present this morning gave it as his belief that no one connected with the defense had been guilty of interviewing Wulzen and that Mr Calhoun himself had heard nothing of it other than what he read in a morning paper

Looking up Jurors

But that is not all that seems likely to disturb the serenity or even tenor of the court proceedings today The sleuths have been at work and Heney is reported as not satisfied with certain of the jurors He wants at least to ask some of them a few more questions and he hopes to disqualify at least one of the twelve without the use of the precious peremptory

Wulzen is not believed to be among those unsatisfactory to the prosecutor, and save for his revelation regarding the alleged tampering nothing more is expected to occur in connection with him

The defense are rather anxious about Robert B Symington who was accepted by Judge Lawlor at the last regular session of the trial before counsel had finished interrogating him as to his state of mind

Heney Is Better

It seems probable that they will desire to further question him before proceeding to exercise their peremptories although the court may not permit the reopening of the examination

Special Prosecutor Heney is much improved in health, and it is said that his cold has almost entirely left him He will be on hand as usual this afternoon and take his customary part in the proceedings

The eleventh panel of eighty veniremen were personally questioned by the court this morning and as before, there were excuses galore

New Venire

Nearly all of the citizens summoned could not possibly be missed from their respective places of business, and it seemed for a while that if they were forced to come to court, even for a single day twoscore offices stores and mercantile houses would have to put up their shutters pull down their blinds and close up shop

Judge Lawlor could not be lenient in every case and many were forced to leave with the order to return at 9 30 tomorrow morning

It is practically certain that at least six of the twelve jurors temporarily accepted will succumb to challenges by one side or the other and that a considerable period will be required to refill the box

The result of the morning session shows twenty-nine talesmen ordered to appear tomorrow morning to be questioned as to their qualifications to appear in the case Over twenty others from the last two panels will be on hand this afternoon when the time for the peremptory challenges has been set

REV. W. TANNER QUITS PASTORATE

Conregation Failed to Back Him In Moral Crusade, Says Minister

Rev. Walter E Tanner pastor of the Melrose Baptist Church handed in his resignation to the directors of the organization yesterday morning The Rev Tanner asserts that his congregation has not backed him up in his moral crusade, and that the churches of the twentieth century are too impractical to gather in the wicked

'The minority in this church last fall pledged themselves to stand by me in the work of reform said the minister in his pulpit yesterday The pledge has failed Those resolutions I feel were made merely to smear the church with the public Internal dissension has continued'

Rev Tanner is the editor of the Fruitvale Topics having been appointed to that position when the paper was made a daily.

OAKLAND IS AUTHORIZED TO ANNEX WATERFRONT LAND

Supervisors Vote Over Protestants' Head

The board of supervisors this morning officially authorized the city of Oakland to proceed with the annexation of about six square miles of the water front and tide lands in the western part of the city, between Long Wharf and Berkeley on San Francisco Bay as a part of the general scheme for the improvement of Oakland harbor The lands in question are distributed among numerous property owners, who hold tracts ranging from five acres and upwards in size

Several protests were read against the annexation from owners of property in Emeryville, among them being Grace Norris & Co John Lacoste of 1024 Sixtieth street Robert Lee Coombs Herbert F Hodgkins Susan Smith Thomas M Brown, and others Their protests were more or less of a legal form and recited in general that the annexation would work an injury to their property interests

Protests Considered

Before finally passing on the matter the board went into executive session to consider the protests and confer with Mayor Mott and City Attorney McElroy in regard to the issues involved between the city of Oakland and the owners of property in Emeryville

When the board reassembled in open session City Attorney McElroy was recognized and stated that after a careful survey of the area proposed to be annexed the City Surveyor has found that none of the property represented by the protestants was located within the boundaries of the area in question Their interests lay outside of the area and consequently they were not directly interested in the matter None of the parties holding land within the strip had protested to the annexation and for that reason he suggested to the board that the proposed move was a popular one to them

Emeryville Opposes

Mr Olds of the Emeryville firm of Keough & Olds appeared for several of the protestants He said that the annexation would shut Emeryville in from the waterfront and take away from her her only deep-water outlet This was unfair to the town and the business interests and he believed that if the board was bent on allowing the city of Oakland to annex the land it should exempt from this process a strip of about three quarters of a mile in front of Emeryville which would give that municipality control over that much deep-water frontage

He said that the people of Emeryville were opposed to being compelled to come to Oakland for franchises or other privileges that would let them extend their business operations to the waterfront They wanted municipal control over such an area of land for themselves

Mayor Mott Speaks

Mayor Mott discussed several important phases of the question with Mr Olds after which Supervisor Mullins introduced the resolution which authorizes the City of Oakland to proceed with the annexation The supervisor supported his resolution with a few remarks about the purposes of the annexation Acting Chairman Kelley put the question after it had been duly seconded by Foss and it carried unanimously

BEATEN AND ROBBED WHILE MIND IS BLANK

School Teacher Has Strange Experience

A deep mystery envelops the condition of Walter H. Graves, instructor in languages at the Oakland High School, who is at his home, 1428 Seventh avenue, in this city, suffering from a number of ugly cuts and bruises on his throat, head and other portions of his body, thought to have been dealt him by thugs in San Francisco some time Saturday.

About 1 o'clock Sunday morning he wandered into the ferry building in San Francisco in a dazed condition, his clothing dishevelled and bespattered with mud and with blood on his face, neck and head. He was taken by Policeman Casey to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, where his wounds were dressed and where attempts were made to have him explain the meaning of his mysterious appearance.

Mind a Blank

From a jumbled account of his experiences Graves fell a victim to thugs shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when he left the Princess Theater San Francisco where he had witnessed the matinee performance From that time until 1 30 o'clock Sunday morning, when he was found at the ferry building his mind was a blank and his attempts to explain away the mysteries of his evening of harrowing experiences only served to make the affair more puzzling

According to his statements he had taken two drinks in a saloon near the Princess Theater One of these visits to the saloon was made during the intermission in the performance and the other at its close

"After that' he said yesterday 'I can not remember what happened and I am even unable to relate what happened to me at the Harbor Hospital'

Valuables Taken

The police of San Francisco were inclined to believe that Graves was attacked by thugs intent upon robbery, as his gold watch and chain, overcoat and $30 were missing His purse, relieved of its contents was found in his pocket and a valuable diamond ring was left untouched on his finger His clothes were bespattered with mud and filth and his hair bedraggled In every way his appearance was strongly indicative of brutal treatment, but the police have been unable to get the merest clew upon which to work

Graves arrived at the ferry depot at 1 o'clock yesterday morning in a dazed condition and first attracted attention by begging for a ferry boat ticket stating that he had lost his pocketbook and would pay later for the ticket This the ticket seller refused to do Policeman Casey on watch at the depot observed the unusual appearance of the man and accosted him but Graves could give no clear account of himself and Casey assisted him to the harbor hospital

Early yesterday morning he was taken to his home in this city

Well Known Linguist

Graves has occupied a chair in the Oakland high school for about ten years He was formerly instructor in Latin and recently was made head of the department of languages He is widely known on this coast as a linguist

William H H Graves father of the injured man when seen at his home last night could throw no light upon the mystery but coincided with the general belief that his son was the victim of thieves

Memory Failed

The elder Graves said 'My son's memory failed him while he was standing in front of the Princess Theater After that he does not remember anything until he was taken to the emergency hospital I believe that he was struck from behind while he was standing on the sidewalk and then dragged into some house and robbed His overcoat and watch were missing and all the money he had amounting to about $30 was gone His head was cut and bruised in many places and he bled copiously during the night

Professor Graves may not be able to resume his work for some time

Beaten and Robbed

The senior Graves denies that his son was intoxicated He does not drink declared Graves 'His friends will bear me out in this statement'

Monday Evening, February 15, 1909.

You pay for insurance against loss by fire—you put up your good coin and go along for insurance against accident or loss of life—but you neglect to accept for nothing the insurance a bank offers protecting you against the loss of your money

You go around with gold in your purse, you leave coin in your rooms, you pay collectors with cash, while the banks stand ready to protect you against all this risk, to keep track of your balance, to pay your bills upon your order, to encourage you to save, and to help you in all transactions—and all for nothing

You can open up a checking account at the Central Bank for $10 or $50, and be absolutely insured against burglars, unauthorized collectors and extravagance.

In paying your bills by check you impress your creditors with your businesslike methods, you place yourself in a position of safety, and you pay out more carefully and more wisely than you would if you handled the coin

You can draw out your entire balance whenever you choose without a question being asked.

Your checks will only be paid to those to whom they are made out to (or to their order) and every check is a lawful and valid receipt for the money

The insurance that any good bank offers its depositors is one of the most vital kinds of insurance in the world, for it strives to protect you against one of your greatest treasures—your money.

And all this service costs nothing but the two or three minutes it takes to get a book and make a deposit.

FINDS FIRST HUSBAND ALIVE; WANTS LAST WEDDING ANNULLED

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 15 Maud Garrett this morning brought it for an annulment of her marriage to George C Garrett to whom she was wedded August 1f 1903 She claims that she has just discovered that her first husband Edward Karl Hain is still alive, and she desires to return to him

J Fitzpatrick was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Superior Judge Graham from his wife Maria Fitzpatrick, on the ground of desertion, and John J Walsh and Edward Oliver were each granted divorces from their respective wives, Margaret C Walsh and Maria Oliver, on the ground of intemperance by Judge Cabaniss.

HE WANTED TO BE SURE OF THE FIRST HUSBAND'S DEATH

An Italian called up the health office this afternoon to get a certified death certificate of Batisto Linaldo who died in December, 1906. When he was asked why he wanted the certificate he said that the widow had gone to Italy and wanted to marry over there, but that the Italian on the other side of the ocean would not marry her without proof that the first husband was dead. First case of that kind that has ever come to the notice of the health office

ANNOUNCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

Oakland Theater Breaks All Records

A steady silver stream of dimes and quarters poured into the box office of one of Oakland's most popular theaters all last week. When one considers the unsettled weather conditions of the past seven days and then realizes that during that period 19,240 people passed through the doors of the Bell Theater it causes food for reflection. Not only were the thousands enumerated above present during the week, but ten thousand is the estimated number that were turned away. Such a record is without a parallel in the history of Oakland when the seating capacity of the theater is considered. But there's a reason, and the public are quick to find it out.

The shows at the Bell are successful from every standpoint because the management present a bill that the people enjoy. The acts are short and snappy. No long waits, no delays, continuous evening performances to accommodate late or early arrivals, and of a class that equals many a higher-priced show. It's the popular thing nowadays to attend the Bell, and the best people in Oakland are weekly patrons. If you tried it once you are pretty certain of admitting that it is a superior show for an inferior price.

'MRS. WIGGS' AT THE MACDONOUGH

Her Quaint Cabbage Patch Philosophy Still Popular and Pleasing as of Old

That wholesome, fascinating and optimistic American dramatic comedy, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which has met with favor wherever it has been presented in its five-year tour around the globe, embracing in its circuit the United States, Canada, England and Australia, is again making a four-night stand at the Macdonough, and yesterday played to a packed house, both at the afternoon and evening performances.

It has lost none of its charm but, on the contrary, like wine, seems to grow in richness with age. The same country cabbage patch kitchen, Stubbins-Hazy wedding, Sunday-school class, farm atmosphere and, last but uppermost, Mrs. Wiggs, are all there. It does one good to hear the homely philosophy of Mrs. Wiggs. Its expressions are what caused Theodore Roosevelt to refer to the play as an example in the way of disseminating the root principles of self help and helpfulness toward others.

Good Company

The work of the company was thoroughly enjoyed. Without doubt the make-up of the troupe is one of the best that has ever been seen in this city in the cast. Blanche Chapman made an excellent Mrs Wiggs and kept the house in a continual uproar. Her children added spice to the piece and gave it individuality. Pessimistic Miss Hazy is just as pessimistic as ever and Mr. Stubbins just as steady. Mrs. Eichorn found a powerful exponent in Helen Raymond, and Argyll Campbell did full justice to Billy Wiggs. The other important parts were: Lottie Alter as Lovey Mary, Eugene Shakespeare as peg-legged Chris Hazy; Katherine Belknap as Mrs. Schultz. The whole cast, in fact, was flawless.

The play will be given again this evening, tomorrow and Wednesday night.

ESTEEMED UNION LEADER IS DEAD

Charles Strasburg, Formerly City Health Inspector, Is Well Known

Charles H Strasburg, aged 34, and business agent of the local Plumbers' Union, is dead at his home, 1667½ Filbert street.

Strasburg was for nine years health inspector of the city of Oakland and a very widely known man.

He was born in Black Hawk, Colo, and came to this State when a mere boy and had lived here since.

He was a master plumber and formed many friends during his business life.

HOTELMEN HOLD SUMPTUOUS BANQUET AT THE FAIRMONT

Orators of Note Deliver Able Addresses

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 15.—The best hosts in the world ought to be and are hotel men themselves, and this was demonstrated Saturday night when the San Francisco hotel men gave their second annual banquet. The spread was in the great gold room of the Fairmont. It was a regal repast that lacked for nothing in arrangement menu or service.

Many guests from outside the city were present at the banquet, and among them were some of the most prominent hotelmen of the Pacific coast. Nevada was represented, as well as the cities of the north and the south of California, but many who had planned to be present were disappointed because of the demoralization of traffic facilities. Twenty-eight local hotels were represented at the banquet board, and the out of town guests were royally entertained prior to the banquet by members of the San Francisco association.

Prominent Hotel Men

Among those who arrived early in the day and who were the guests of local hotelmen at luncheons dinners and in automobile drives about the city were Charles Sadlier and H. J. Gosse of Reno, J. F. Douglass of Reno and A. C. von Ache of Los Angeles. The latter was the only Los Angeles representative at the banquet, for the larger party of Los Angeles men who started for the city were forced to put back after beginning their journey by the cancellation of the Owl train on the Southern Pacific.

Those who started, but who failed to reach San Francisco from the southern metropolis were Charles Mitchell of the Hollenbeck, Harry Fryman of the Hayward, Dwight Hart of the Rosslyn and Natick, and Al Levy, president of the Los Angeles Restaurant and Hotelmen's Association.

Many Unable to Attend

Charles Mitchell was to have responded to one of the toasts of the evening, as were also Governor Gillett and Horace Platt of the city who were unavoidably detained. Telegrams of regret from the Los Angeles party and other disappointed guests were read by Colonel John C. Kirkpatrick, the toastmaster. The speakers who participated were James Woods, president of the local association; President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University, Mayor Edward Robeson Taylor of San Francisco, Bishop Nichols of the Episcopal diocese of California, George A. Knight of San Francisco, Rabbi Jacob Nieto and J F Douglas of Goldfield

President James Woods introduced Colonel Kirkpatrick, who acted as toastmaster for the evening He introduced first President Jordan, who referred to his address at the opening of the St. Francis Hotel

"In London and other foreign cities I have heard the hotels of California spoken of as the best in the world, and I have heard them designated by name," he said "So it is a privilege to live in California, I say, because California has climate, elbow room and the best hotels on earth."

Mayor Taylor made a hit by referring to the hotel men as 'Knights of the Stomach'"

"Napoleon," he said "said that armies marched on their bellies, and nothing that I know of that was worth while was ever accomplished on an empty stomach. A full stomach leads to good, never to evil But it is not this want alone that the hotel has to fulfill, but a greater want. It is a want that goes hand in hand with human happiness, San Francisco is now on a new career, and let us hope that, as in the past, her people will remain resolute to maintain the highest and the best in all things Though gay, let the people of this city strive that the city may endure, and strive always for the best."

Bishop Nichols Speaks

"Our reputation as a city for geniality and hospitality," said Bishop Nichols, "depends largely upon our hotels, for it is in the hotels that the tourist and the visitor find their entertainment and gain their impressions of our hospitality. And we find among hotelmen a unique fellowship—a fellowship that belies the rivalry and the noise of the busses at the ferry depot. Not only that, but your hotels elevate the tastes of our people, make for the conservation of morality and contribute to the uplift of humanity. You are building better than you know"

Knight Refers to Lincoln

"In you,' said George A. Knight, "rests a great power of blending and educating the ideals of our civilization and our government, for your contact and your resultant opportunity for extending an influence of good to humanity is beyond conception. Tonight you listened to the singing by a quartet here of "My Old Kentucky Home," and you all applauded until this room resounded. It is meet that we should remember, then, at this time an old Kentucky home that gave to the world a hundred years ago last night a second Caesar. A Kentucky cabin gave to the world a man, and God set him with a star Let us not forget tonight the memory of Abraham Lincoln."

Rabbi Nieto paraphrased the great speech of King Henry on the field of Algencourt to emphasize the fact that if all the perplexing conditions of a great city were left with the hotel men they would be serenely settled. J. F. Douglas, District Attorney of Esmeralda county, told of California's popularity throughout the world for good fellowship and the hospitality of its people.

BRING UP CORPSE IN THE BAY THREE WEEKS

VALLEJO Feb 15.—The body of Thomas F Walsh, first mate of the gasoline schooner Rio Rey, who was drowned near here on January 31, was found this morning at 2 o'clock by fishermen, who brought it up in their net. Although it is three weeks since Walsh was drowned his body was still at the bottom of the bay when it became entangled in the net, which is rather strange, as a body is supposed to come to the surface in nine days. The body is in a terrible condition from its long stay under the water.

YELLOW HORROR TO OUST US, SAYS DREW

"Pernicious" Monroe Doctrine Extended to California, Declares Assemblyman

WILL SOON BE SERVANTS TO JAPS, IS PREDICTION

Author of Anti-Alien Bill Preaches Sermon on "Incubus" From Orient

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Assemblyman A. M. Drew of Fresno, in a sermon preached at the Central M. E. Church in this city last night, spoke in part as follows:

"The history of the world teaches that a commingling of the white and yellow, or the white and black race always brings the white race down and never brings the yellow or black up. It results in a shiftless, worthless mongrel race that the world not want.

"It was so with the conquering Helenes; it was so with the Greeks, it was so with the Romans; it was so with Spain The mixture of the brown or the black with the white race sent the white race down, never brought the black race up. The South American countries were settled with the people of the mixed Spanish and negro blood, and that is the thing that places the South American lands where they are.

Scores Monroe Doctrine

"The Monroe doctrine was one of the most pernicious the world has known. The South American countries teem with natural wealth, but the people who inhabit it are the most worthless in the world. And now the Monroe doctrine has crossed the north continent to California. I say to you that the white race never has, never can stand where the yellow or black race meets it. I say to you that if conditions go on as they now are, it will not be fifty years until the white race on this coast becomes the typewriters and the servants of the yellow. To compete with the yellow race would mean that the white men would starve to death. The Japanese are fastening themselves to our soil. Only today a man on the train told me that he had sold $96,000 worth of land in Orange county to a Japanese. They buy tracts of land and live in shanties in which a white man could not exist and by saving every cent they accumulate wealth.

Can't Live Together

"If the Japanese comes the white man must go. No perfect man can come from the mixture of blood. The two races cannot live together. I say to you, Don't permit them to live in our midst I say to you, Don't permit them to take our land I say to you Don't permit them to drive out our people.

"I hope the time will come when the United States government will wake up and protect the fair State of California from this yellow horror, this incubus that threatens to overwhelm it The homes of this land of ours is superior to anything else Four of my brothers laid down their lives on battlefields from '61 to '65, and I tell you that a man who will not fight for this country has no right in it and has no right to own our land. I hope to see California take that stand.

Oriental Trade

"I think I know why President Roosevelt sent orders to the State of California to keep its hands off of the question of excluding Japanese from our schools, from our lands This country has four hundreds of millions of dollars of trade with the Chinese each year and I believe he thinks Japan could so manipulate matters as to close the doors of Chinese trade to us.

'What' Shall the homes of the people of this great State be pitted against the paltry dollars and cents of trade? I believe under God it will not I hope this agitation will awaken the people and that their cry for protection from the United States government will be so piercing that that government will have to come to their relief."

2 KILLED WHILE STEALING RIDE

One of the Victims Thought to Be Resident of Oakland

GILROY, Feb. 15.—Two men, supposed to be Darwin Wlegam of Trinidad, Colo, and Ambrose Glenn Searle of Oakland, were killed today by freight cars overturning at Betabel, a small station on the coast line between Gilroy and Sargeants.

The men were evidently stealing a ride on a north-bound freight.

Papers found upon victims of the wreck lead to their probable identification They were cigar makers by trade. Searle is thought to have lived at 1033 Adeline street, Oakland.

Both of the men were well dressed and had none of the appearances of the ordinary hobo.

Oil Trust Branch Pays $50,000 Fine

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo, Feb. 15.—Henry S Priest of St. Louis and H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the board of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, today filed in the supreme court of Missouri an acceptance of the terms imposed upon the company by the recent ouster order of the court The fine of $50,000 was paid The ouster decree provided that the company must show to the court that it had dissolved all connection with the Standard Oil Company and a statement to this effect may not be required by the court.

Judge Priest, however, said that he believed today's action covered the case so far as the Missouri corporation was concerned, and said he did not know of anything more that could be done.

SUPERVISOR HORNER KEPT FROM MEETING BY ILLNESS

Kelley Is Chosen Chairman in His Place

The continued illness of Chairman Horner preventing his attendance Supervisor Kelley presided over the session of the Board of Supervisors this morning as chairman pro tem. Supervisors Bridge Foss and Mullins were present.

The report of Secretary Fane of the Associated Charities showing that sixteen indigent families were charges of the county was received. All of these cases are still under the county's care.

The bond of D. J. Murphy as fish and game warden approved by the Superior Court was filed.

Judge Ellsworth complained to the board that the court rooms are not adequately heated and on behalf of his colleagues and himself asked the supervisors to have the matter remedied. The complaint was referred to the building committee.

The following persons were granted permits to obtain a license for the sale of liquors: J. A. Silva, Niles; F. Jorgensen, Dublin Canon; James E. Nichols (The Cabin), 1216 Fruitvale avenue.

WATER SUPPLY DECLARED UNSANITARY BY DOCTORS

Cause of Illness, Say Health Board Experts

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—A sensation has been sprung upon the citizens of this city to the effect that the reservoir containing the water supply of this city is not only contaminated but is unsanitary. The illness of hundreds of Alameda residents supposed to be caused by drinking the water has resulted in an investigation by Dr. W. L. Stilhan of the Board of Health and Dr. J. I. Clark, president of the board, who have reported the above stated startling result.

Physicians throughout the city have been overrun with patients suffering from the effects of drinking impure water and in several cases a single physician has been called to attend to more than 125 patients in a day. Symptoms of ptomaine poisoning developed and in several instances it was feared that death might result.

Dr. Clark stated last night: "I have made an investigation of the water supply and find that it is not only far from wholesome but most unsanitary."

Cut Wife's Throat When She Refused Him Money

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Because she persisted in paying the installments on their little home from her slender earnings as a washer woman instead of turning them over to him to spend for liquor, Thomas Maston, a negro, killed his wife early today by cutting her throat with a razor. She had just finished dressing preparatory to going to work when Maston attacked her.

With one slash he cut her throat and she died in a few minutes. The young woman's mother witnessed the killing. Maston escaped but a posse is hunting him.

DARINGLY ROB SAVANT'S HOME

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—A burglary which for daring and cleverness has not been paralleled in the records of the local police department in many months was committed last night at the home of Prof. Munro F. Deutsch of the department of Latin in the University of California, when jewelry, silverware and articles of clothing valued at about $500 were taken during the afternoon by a pair of bold thieves.

Prof. Deutsch and his wife left their home, 1911 Haste street, early in the afternoon. They returned shortly after dark, and upon attempting to enter through the front doorway found the hallway blocked with furniture and the door barred so that they were unable to get in.

Alarmed and puzzled by this condition of affairs they hurried to the rear entrance, to find that the door was wide open and marks of a heavy chisel in the woodwork, showing the means by which it had been forced. Prof. Deutsch daringly entered the house in the expectation that the men might be in hiding within.

The house had been ransacked and every portable article of value taken by the burglars. Two pairs of walking gloves, useless in themselves as plunder, were taken, and the failure of the police to find a finger mark by means of which a suspect might be identified has led to the belief that the burglars worked with Prof. Deutsch's own gloves to protect themselves from detection.

The loot was carried away in a large crocodile leather grip belonging to Prof. Deutsch. The police are baffled by the audacity of the thieves in carrying on their operations almost in broad daylight.

OFFICIALS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—Mayor Francis Ferrier, Trustee Fred Schad of the Fourth ward and Superintendent of Streets E. Q. Turner narrowly escaped serious injury when an automobile in which they were making a trip of inspection of the streets was run down by a Telegraph avenue car at the Dwight way crossing yesterday afternoon. The mud guard of the machine was wrenched from its fastenings and hurled through the window of the limousine, missing the head of Schad by scarce an inch.

The three officials had spent the afternoon in North Berkeley and the Claremont district looking over the damage to streets in the recent storm. They were returning when the accident happened.

ASKS TO HAVE CREEK DREDGED

Elmhurst Citizen Declares Town Gets Altogether Too Much Water

Philip Reilly, president of the Elmhurst sanitary board, appeared before the county Supervisors this morning and asked them to make provisions for dredging the creek which runs through Elmhurst to prevent future damage to property by overflowing banks in times of flood. He stated that the brush growing in the bed of the creek and the gravel swept in from street gutters left little room in the creek for any large amount of water to pass through.

"Then the People's Water Company opens its flood gates at Lake Chabot," said Reilly, "and the overflow therefrom comes down the creek at Elmhurst. The consequence is that the main part of the town receives more water than it otherwise would if the creek were kept clear of debris and the water company were prohibited from turning its surplus in our direction. We believe it is in your power to compel the use of an emergency overflow at the lake and we know that you can have the creek properly opened."

The matter was referred to Supervisor Bridge with power to act.

GIBSON AFTER SHYSTER LAWYERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—An arrest which marks the beginning of a crusade against the parasites who thrive on the livelihood they make off the poor unfortunates who find themselves in a cell at the city prison after some rash act committed on the spur of the moment was made this morning when a warrant sworn to by Detective Ed Gibson was served on George Barris, one of the crew of shyster lawyers who hang about the local Police Court.

Barris has not even a lawyer's privilege to handle cases at the Police Court but he is about there continually from early morning until court convenes in the afternoon. Chief of Police Cook promises more arrests to follow this first one.

"These fellows will find that they cannot line about the corridor upstairs unless they can show a lawyer's certificate," stated Cook this morning. "Half of them have not this legal backing and are no more than vagrants. This must and will cease."

FEATURE BILL AT THE BELL WITH OLD AND NEW FAVORITES ON DECK

WILL HALLIDAY AND PETE CURLEY,
In "The Battle of Too-Soon," at the Bell Theater.

"Casey" with "The Soldier of Too Soon" at the Bell Theater this week is one of the greatest Irish comedians that has ever appeared on a local stage. This little travesty on military life as it is at the front is one of the most cleverly handled sketches the management of this popular theater has ever booked.

The comedy is clean cut, refined and the laughs follow one another without any attempt at forcing. Peter Curley as Casey, "careless Casey," as he is termed by his comrades, is a witty Irishman who turns a joke on his superior officer, General Mulberry, with every quip and jest that is passed.

There are plenty of musical numbers interspersed. The old favorites, the well known and ever welcome duo Kelly and Violet, are received with great eclat. This fashion plate duo render a number of popular song hits in their entertaining style and the audience are most vociferous in their encore.

Then there is a firstclass trio Connolly-Wenrich-Connolly who do a little dancing, some piano playing that is enjoyed and are heard in several songs that are especially well rendered. Mr. Wenrich is the well known song writer and composer, his latest successes "Rainbow" and "Naughty Eyes" being introduced in their act.

Girdellet and his company of canines present some interesting feats in dogdom. The entry of Girdellet in a fake automobile which immediately proceeds to get out of order, his various ludicrous efforts to repair it and the final unloading of the tonneau when the dogs are released always tickles the crowds. An unusual thing in this act and something which caused much favorable comment was the clever exhibition by the little fox terrier, the star of the troupe. He proceeds to execute his various tricks done unaided by his master and without a spoken word, Mr. Girdellet remaining off the stage while the little fellow holds the spot light.

Professor Williams and his ventriloquism is a pleasing diversion and the act is a capital fun maker. By the use of dummies the professor presents an unique entertainment that is thoroughly enjoyed. As a specially added feature Caron and Herbert, premier acrobatic comedians in gymnastic feats, are strong headliners.

FOUR STUNNED WHEN CAR AND AUTO CRASH TOGETHER

Passengers Hurled to Marsh and Bruised

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—An automobile containing Ralph Kirkham Blair, Mrs. Blair and Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, members of Oakland's social set, collided with car No. 211 of the Oakland Traction Company at 9:25 o'clock last night opposite the United Engineering Works on Webster street. The occupants of the car were thrown from their seats and were all more or less painfully injured though no fatalities are anticipated.

The machine was traveling at a high rate of speed and when in front of the engine works Blair saw the car approaching. The glare of the headlight blinded him and he did not realize that he was so close. A new mica front recently put in the automobile added to the confusion of the driver who was unaccustomed to it.

The fast moving bodies crashed into each other head on, the automobile party being thrown into the road. The machine was a wreck and so strong was the impact that the auto rushed on for nearly a block before it came to a standstill, notwithstanding the fact that two wheels had been torn off in the collision.

The auto party lay stunned in the mud of the marsh until they were picked up by passengers of the car who rushed back to render aid as soon as Motorman A. E. Whitney was able to bring the car to a stop. At this time George W. Emmons came along in his machine and carried the bruised and stunned victims to their home at 1101 E. ... street.

All the injured are resting easily today though they are still suffering from many bruises and the shock.

JOHN H. WALKER NOW IN THE RACE

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—Another change in the political aspect is the announcement of the withdrawal from the race for Councilman at large of Leo Smith in favor of John H. Walker. Smith makes his withdrawal in the interest of party success and makes the following announcement:

To my Friends and the Public:

After considerable thought on my part I have come to the conclusion that inasmuch as the success of the party would be better conserved by my withdrawal as a candidate for councilman at large in favor of John H. Walker, I wish to say that in so doing that I shall work for and for the success of Mr. Walker.

Thanking my friends for the honor conferred on me in bringing my name before the public in connection with this important office, I am

LEO SMITH.

Walker, the Republican candidate for councilman at large, is prominent in business affairs here, is a property owner and considered well to do. He has spent many years in Alameda and has the confidence of the citizens. He is engaged in the insurance and brokerage business at San Francisco and makes his home here.

DR. WM. CONGER MORGAN TO SPEAK ON CHEMISTRY

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—Dr. William Conger Morgan, professor of chemistry at the University of California, will speak before the Unitarian Club Wednesday evening on the subject "What we owe to Chemistry in its Application to Modern Processes of Production."

The music of the evening will embrace violin solos by Marion Lutgen and vocal numbers will be contributed by A. Horatio Cogswell.

MAE PERKINS RETURNS FROM SOUTHERN TRIP

Miss Mae Perkins, daughter of United States Senator George C. Perkins and prominent in society here and at Washington, D. C., whose engagement to George MacKinnon, son of William H. MacKinnon, the Oakland capitalist, was recently announced, has returned to Oakland after a sojourn in Southern California.

EXPECT AXE TO FALL WHEN OCEAN VIEW TRUSTEES MEET

Mayor After C. Hinton's Scalp, Is Claim

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—That the axe will fall tomorrow night at the meeting of the Ocean View board of trustees is the opinion of those who have been watching the poolroom fight in that city. It remains a question as to which way it will drop however. It is hinted that Mayor Roberts is after the scalp of C. M. Hinton, justice of the peace of the newly incorporated city.

Hinton accused the Mayor of being a "fourflusher" and of failing to keep his promises, telling him openly at the last meeting of the board of trustees that he had the dope on him and insinuating that the Mayor was bound by promises to the poolroom interests. When called upon by Roberts to prove his words he stated that he would have to obtain the consent of a lady to whom Roberts had given his confidence before he would make definite disclosures in the matter.

Expect Stormy Meeting

It is anticipated that the meeting will be a stormy one. Mayor Roberts is said to have declared that he will make Hinton prove his words or retract and a clash is expected between the two. Hinton was appointed on account of his work at the time of the incorporation of the city in gaining votes in favor of the movement. It is suggested that the trustees feel that they have made a mistake in giving the position of city recorder and ex-officio justice of the peace to Hinton. He has made trouble on several occasions by standing in the forefront of movements for clean politics and for open measures.

The trustees used his influence while they were attempting to have the bond issue passed and in other affairs but as soon as the poolroom trouble was aroused and Hinton lined up against the licensing of the places trouble began to brew between him and the majority of the trustees of the board.

Pool-Rooms Spell Trouble

The anti-poolroom ordinance will again appear as the bone of contention and representatives of the Oakland poolroom men as well as of the district attorney's office will be on hand to back up the trustees opposing the prohibition of the poolrooms. A tilt will certainly occur between the lawyers on each side and a second fight with numerous complications will also be broached.

This is the alleged "drugging" of Trustee George Browne, whose absence from the board meeting last Tuesday night kept the ordinance from coming to a vote. Deputy District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes charged that Browne had been detained by the poolroom interests in the fear that his vote might carry the ordinance against them. Hynes hinted that Browne had been drugged or had been made intoxicated by the use of "knockout drops." His charge will be probed at the meeting tomorrow night and an effort made to fix the responsibility for Browne's condition.

Not Due to Intoxication

Trustee Browne states that he remembers everything up to a short time before the meeting of the board of trustees but that there is a blank space of time which he cannot fill in until he awoke sick and nauseated the next morning. He declares that his condition was not due to intoxication, and his friends back him up in the statement that he is not a drinking man and that he was not intoxicated. Every effort will be made to probe the case to the bottom, and it is possible that the developments in the affair will lead to charges being made against some of the trustees.

The fate of the poolroom ordinance still hangs in the balance. But it not been for the ignorance of parliamentary practice on the part of the members of the board of trustees opposing the ordinance it would have been voted down at the last meeting. There is a question as to what influence has been brought to bear in the meanwhile, and the residents of the city are watching with great interest the result of the meeting tomorrow night.

35 WELL KNOWN MILITIAMEN ARE SEARCHED TO LOCATE STOLEN GUN

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—The theft of a 38 Colt's revolver valued at $15 from its holster in the armory of Company C, the Berkeley company of the National Guards, has caused suspicion to be directed against thirty-five of the members of the organization who were in the hall at the time. The revolver was the property of Lieutenant H. ... of the company and was taken from the holster while the members were in the building. No one had left the hall from the time the pistol was in the possession of its owner to the time it was missed. The entire thirty-five men were lined up and searched but without success.

DON'T WANT AID OF SECRET SERVICE

Heads of Various Bureaus Say They Do Not Need Treasury Detectives

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Responsible officials connected with the detection of crime in four different branches of the government, have just testified in substance that the limitation on the use of the secret service operators of the treasury department has not been injurious to their respective services.

They are Chairman Knapp of the Interstate Commerce Commission, William L. Soleau, disbursing clerk of the Department of Commerce and Labor; G. W. Trowbridge, chief of Revenue agents, and Assistant Secretary James B. Reynolds of the Treasury Department, in charge of the customs service.

Hope to Refute Charge

Their testimony taken during hearings of the sundry civil appropriation bill was made public today by the House committee on appropriations. With the testimony of Secretary Garfield of the Interior Department and to Attorney-General Bonaparte, it is relied upon by the committee to refute the claim that the limitation placed last year on the secret service of the treasury department has worked to the interest of criminal classes.

All who were examined on the subject disapproved of the suggestion of a central detective bureau and all expressed satisfaction with existing conditions. None could recall a demand for a secret service operative of the Treasury Department during the past year.

Soleau explained that in the department of Commerce and Labor are immigration inspectors and special agents engaged in investigating questions of violations of law.

Would Cripple Service

Soleau said relative to the Chinese Exclusive Act:

"It seems to me it would cripple the service to throw that case into an independent bureau when we already have men on the ground who are able to take up those cases and who know what to do with them on account of their familiarity with Chinese exclusion matters."

Have Own Men

Chairman Knapp explained that in the Interstate Commerce Commission are a few men employed to get information about possible infractions of the law.

He added that the commission had never used a treasury department secret service man for any purpose.

Assistant Secretary Reynolds described the force of special agents and confidential agents engaged in detecting fraud upon the customs revenues. Since he came into office in 1905 he said there had been only two or three instances where the secret service division had been called upon for assistance.

"We watched a man convicted of assisting in silk frauds in New York while his case was being taken up to the Circuit Court but unfortunately the man got away," Reynolds told the committee. During the last year he said his department had had no reason to desire the detail of any secret service men.

Trowbridge expressed little faith in operatives in the secret service division of the treasury department for suppression of illicit distilling or ferreting out violations of the oleomargarine act.

"They are a failure so far as our bureau is concerned," declared the chief of the revenue agents.

"I have tried them. I gave them a fair test: two bright fellows at $10 per day each and expenses for two months and they did not meet with any success."

IDAHO ASSEMBLY NOW ACCEPTS LOCAL OPTION

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 15.—The local option bill passed by the senate last week was accepted by the house today. The bill now goes to the Governor who has announced his intention of signing it.

Under the terms of the bills, county commissioners of any county are required on presentation of a petition signed by forty per cent of the voters, to order a special election to determine the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors.

LYSOL MISTAKEN FOR A MEDICINE

Sick Woman Nearly Killed by Friend Who Gets Drugs Mixed

Lysol in a bottle left by a physician for an antiseptic wash was given to Mrs. M. Crafts in a teaspoon by a friend last night, and Mrs. Crafts had a narrow escape from death. A hurry call was sent to the Receiving Hospital and Steward Crozier, realizing that time was short, caught up some paraphernalia and left for Mr. Crafts' home at 704 ... street.

Crozier was able to pump the lysol from Mrs. Crafts' stomach and followed with treatment which materially relieved her. It is the first instance on record for a long time where the rescue work of the Receiving Hospital was carried on outside the walls of the building.

Mrs. Crafts has a baby one week old and the woman who gave the lysol was a neighbor who volunteered to nurse her.

TEAMSTER HAS RIG. RUN DOWN BY TRAIN

M. Frakel, a teamster, attempted to take his rig across the line of the Seventh street local at Grove street yesterday afternoon. Frakel miscalculated the distance and his wagon was demolished in the collision with the engine. He was taken to the Receiving hospital where treatment was given for a bad sprain of the left side.

John Moignard was found with bare feet and rolled up trousers engaging the rain last evening and searching for deep puddles in which to wade. A policeman corralled the wader and took him to the Receiving Hospital, suspecting that something was wrong with his head. Instead John was found to be afflicted with dropsy and the procedure adopted was the sending of John to the county infirmary.

TO CALL BANKERS IN COFFEY CASE

Part of Defendant's Testimony Before Grand Jury Read in Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—The trial of Supervisor Michael W. Coffey, and incidentally, the battle of the brothers, Hoff Cook and Carroll Cook, was resumed in Judge Dunne's court at 10 o'clock this morning, with Benjamin F. Wilson, clerk in the treasurer's office of the United Railroads on the stand. He testified that he had charge of the safe and knew that General Ford did not have over $50,000 in it at any time in May, 1906.

A. H. Rosetti, chief clerk of the Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank, identified deposit tags of the United Railroads, presented to him by Attorney Hoff Cook; and it is said that more bankers will be called before the hearing is finally concluded.

Miss Condon Testifies

Miss L. H. Condon, stenographer for the Oliver Grand Jury, testified to some testimony given by Coffey on March 18, 1907. Attorney Carroll Cook objected, but the court allowed the admission. One of the questions objected to was propounded by Heney on that occasion in the following terms:

"Now, Mr. Coffey, you need not answer any questions likely to incriminate you, as you are doing this entirely of your own free will. You understand that, do you?"

"Yes," assented Coffey.

Oppose Testimony

The prosecution holds that Coffey's testimony given at this time is admissible evidence while Attorneys Serral and Carroll Cook argue that any man once promised immunity or freedom from prosecution is entitled to be safeguarded from having any admissions made by him thereafter used against him. Judge Dunne has already ruled out the testimony given in the Gladstone Apartments. Attorney Hoff Cook claims that he intends only to offer admission and not concessions made by the defendant.

SPEEDING AUTO RUNS DOWN MAN

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—A speeding automobile driven by an unknown man, ran down Joe Bauhofer of 1618 Everett street at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night at the corner of Santa Clara avenue and Park street. Bauhofer was driving a milk wagon at the time and was hurled from his seat to the pavement.

He was picked up and carried to the White Cross Hospital, where he is being attended by Dr. T. E. Clark. Bauhofer is badly bruised and there are several cuts and contusions about his body, though Dr. Clark states that he is not fatally hurt.

Two numbers were on the machine, one being 19,532, but this number does not appear on the list which the police have, it probably being an old number. The supplement does show the other number, which is 549. The records show that the machine bearing this number is under license to C. S. Howard, 622 Polk street, San Francisco.

Howard, or the man who acted as chauffeur at the time of the collision, has not appeared to explain the affair.

DESPONDENCY CAUSES MAN TO TAKE LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Fred Bastress, a carpenter, 49 years old, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself in the head with a 38-caliber revolver. The body is at the morgue. Despondency is said to be the cause of the suicide. Bastress has long been out of work and owed for his board and lodging at 500 Ninth street. He leaves a wife.

APPLICATION MADE OF COURT OF APPEALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—An application was made at the United States Court of Appeals this morning on behalf of Si Nuk, a Chinese woman who is said to be very ill in the Alameda county jail and is being held for a violation of the immigration laws. The court will act on the matter this afternoon.

PIONEER NAVIGATOR ANSWERS LAST CALL

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Captain J. H. Roberts, president of the California Transportation Company and a pioneer navigator, died this morning at his home in this city.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—More than 600 visitors inspected the new auto fire engine which recently arrived from the Watrous Engine Works at St. Paul. The engine is at the Sherman street fire house and is the largest of its kind ever built and the only one of similar construction on the Pacific coast. The cost was $8000. The engine has a pumping capacity of 600 gallons per minute, is of 80 horsepower, of four cylinders.

NATION'S INTEREST INVOLVED IN WELFARE OF CHILDREN--CARE FOR THEM, SAYS ROOSEVELT

URGES CONGRESS TO AID NATION'S ORPHANS

President Asks for Establishment of Federal Bureau to Care for Unfortunates.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Legislation, which, it is believed if enacted into law will make an important epoch in the future well-being of the dependent children of the nation, is recommended in a special message by President Roosevelt sent to Congress today, in which he makes a strong plea in the interest of children coming within this class.

Of particular importance is the President's recommendation for the establishment of a Federal Children's Bureau; the enactment of such legislation as will bring the laws and practices in regard to the care of dependent children in all Federal territory into harmony and certain legislation in behalf of dependent children in the District of Columbia.

To Set Example

The President believes that such legislation is important, not only for the welfare of the children immediately concerned, but important "as setting an example of a high standard of child protection by the National Government to the several States of the Union, which should be able to look to the nation for leadership in such matters."

The President also transmits with his message to Congress a copy of the conclusions, together with the full text of the proceedings of the recent conferences here on the care of dependent children, in accordance with the request of that organization. Declaring that their conclusions "constitute a wise, constructive and progressive program of child-caring work," the President says that if "given full effect by the proper agencies, existing methods and practices in almost every community would be profoundly and advantageously modified."

Places in Community

Statistics showing the large number of dependent children in the country are presented by Roosevelt. "Each of these children represents either a potential addition to the productive capacity and the enlightened citizenship of the nation," says the President, "or, if allowed to suffer from neglect, a potential addition to the destructive forces of the community. The ranks of criminals and other enemies of society are recruited in an altogether undue proportion from children bereft of their natural homes and left without sufficient care. The interests of the nation are involved in the welfare of this army of children no less than in our great material affairs."

Children's Bureau

In urging a children's bureau, one of whose duties will be to investigate a report upon all matters pertaining to the welfare of children and child life, the President points out that "the National Government is the only agency which can effectively conduct such general inquiries as are needed for the benefit of all our citizens."

"It is not only discreditable to us as a people that there is now no recognized and authoritative source of information upon these subjects relating to child life," declares the President, "but in the absence of such information as should be supplied by the Federal Government many abuses have gone unchecked; for public sentiment, with its great corrective power, can only be aroused by full knowledge of the facts."

He adds that there are few things more vital to the welfare of the nation than accurate and dependable knowledge of the best methods of dealing with children, particularly those handicapped by misfortune.

President's Message

The President makes a strong plea for keeping the family intact, and declares that poverty alone should not disrupt the home. His message follows in part:

On January 25-26, 1909, there assembled in this city, on my invitation, a Conference on the Care of Dependent Children. To this conference there came from nearly every State in the Union men and women actively engaged in the care of dependent children, and they represented all the leading religious bodies.

The subject considered is one of high importance to the well-being of the nation. The Census Bureau reported in 1904 that there were in orphanages and children's homes about 93,000 dependent children. There are probably 50,000 more (the precise number never having been ascertained) in private homes, either on board or in adopted homes provided by the generosity of foster parents. In addition to these there were 28,000 children in institutions for juvenile delinquents.

Wise Provisions

Notwithstanding a wide diversity of views and methods represented in the conference, and notwithstanding the varying legislative enactments and policies of the States from which the members came, the conference, at the close of its sessions, unanimously adopted a series of declarations expressing the conclusions which they had reached. These constitute a wise, constructive and progressive program of child-caring. If given full effect by the proper agencies, existing methods and practices in almost every community would be profoundly and advantageously modified.

More significant even than the contents of the declarations is the fact that they were adopted without dissenting vote and with every demonstration of hearty approval on the part of all present. They constitute a standard of accepted opinion by which each community should measure the adequacy of its existing methods and to which each community should seek to conform its legislation and its practice.

Home Life

The keynote of the conference was expressed in these words:

Home life is the highest and finest product of civilization. Children should not be deprived of it except for urgent and compelling reasons.

Surely poverty alone should not disrupt the home. Parents of good character suffering from temporary misfortune, and, above all, deserving mothers fairly well able to work, but deprived of the support of the normal breadwinner, should be given such aid as may be necessary to enable them to maintain suitable homes for the rearing of their children. The widowed or deserted mother, if a good woman, willing to work and to do her best should ordinarily be helped in such fashion as will enable her to bring up her children herself in their natural home. Children from unfit homes, and children who have no homes, who must be cared for by charitable agencies should, so far as practicable, be cared for in families.

While it is recognized that these conclusions can be given their fullest effect only by the action of the several States or communities concerned, or of their charitable agencies, the conference requested me to send to you a message recommending Federal action.

There are pending in both Houses of Congress bills for the establishment of a Children's Bureau, i. e., Senate bill No. 5323 and House bill No. 21148. These provide for a Children's Bureau in the Department of the Interior which "shall investigate and report upon all matters pertaining to the welfare of children and child life, and shall especially investigate the questions of infant mortality, the birth rate, physical degeneracy, orphanage, juvenile delinquency and juvenile courts, desertion and illegitimacy, dangerous occupations, accidents and diseases of children of the working classes, employment, legislation affecting children in the several States and territories, and such other facts as have a bearing upon the health, efficiency, character and training of children."

Urges Action

One of the needs felt most acutely by the conference was that of accurate information concerning these questions relating to childhood. The national government not only has the unquestioned right of research in such vital matters, but is the only agency which can effectively conduct such general inquiries as are needed for the benefit of all our citizens. In accordance with the unanimous request of the conference, I therefore most heartily urge your favorable action on these measures.

It is not only discreditable to us as a people that there is now no recognized and authoritative source of information upon these subjects relating to child life, but in the absence of such information as should be supplied by the Federal Government many abuses have gone unchecked; for public sentiment, with its great corrective power, can only be aroused by full knowledge of the facts. In addition to such information as the Census Bureau and other existing agencies of the Federal Government already provide, there remains much to be ascertained through lines of research not now authorized by law; and there should be correlation and dissemination of the knowledge obtained without any duplication of effort or interference with what is already being done. There are few things more vital to the welfare of the nation than accurate and dependable knowledge of the best methods of dealing with children, especially with those who are in one way or another handicapped by misfortune; and in the absence of such knowledge each community is left to work out its own problem without being able to learn of and profit by the success or failure of other communities along the same lines of endeavor. The bills for the establishment of the Children's Bureau are advocated not only by this conference, but by a large number of national organizations that are disinterestedly working for the welfare of children, and also by philanthropic, educational and religious bodies in all parts of the country.

Wants Legislation

I further urge that such legislation be enacted as may be necessary in order to bring the laws and practices in regard to the care of dependent children in all Federal territory into harmony with the other conclusions reached by the conference.

Congress took a step in the direction of the conclusions of this conference in 1893, when, on the recommendation of the late Amos G. Warner, then superintendent of charities for the District of Columbia, the Board of Children's Guardians was created, with authority, among other things, to place children in family homes. That board has made commendable progress and its work should be strengthened and extended.

Conference Conclusions

I recommend legislation for the District of Columbia in accordance with the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth sections of the conclusions of the conference, as follows:

1. That the approval of the Board of Charities be required for the incorporation of all child-caring agencies, as well as amendments of the charter of any benevolent corporation which includes child-caring work, and that other than duly incorporated agencies be forbidden to engage in the care of needy children. This legislation is needed in order to insure the fitness and responsibility of those who propose to undertake the care of helpless children. Such laws have long been in satisfactory operation in several of the larger states of the Union.

2. That the Board of Charities, through its duly authorized agents, shall inspect the work of all agencies which care for dependent children, whether by institutional or by home-finding methods and whether supported by public or private funds. The state has always jealously guarded the interests of children whose parents have been able to leave them property by requiring the appointment of a guardian, under bond, accountable directly to the courts, even though there be a competent surviving parent. Surely the interests of the child who is not only an orphan, but penniless, ought to be no less sacred than those of the more fortunate orphan who inherits property. If the protection of the Government is necessary in the one case it is even more necessary in the other. If we are to require that duly incorporated institutions shall be allowed to engage in this responsible work it is necessary to provide for public inspection, lest the state should become the unconscious partner of those who either from ignorance or inefficiency are unsuited to deal with the problem.

School and Home Life

3. That the education of children in orphan asylums and other similar institutions in the District of Columbia be under the supervision of the Board of Education, in order that these children may enjoy educational advantages equal to those of the other children. Normal school life comes next to normal home life in the process of securing the fullest development of the child.

4. That all agencies engaged in child-caring work in the District of Columbia be required by law to adopt adequate methods in investigation and make permanent records relative to children under their care, and to exercise faithful personal supervision over their wards until legally adopted or otherwise clearly beyond the need of further supervision, the forms and methods of such investigation, records and supervision to be prescribed and enforced by the Board of Charities.

Example to States

I deem such legislation as is herein recommended not only important for the welfare of the children immediately concerned, but important as setting an example of a high standard of child protection for the National Government to the several States of the Union, which should be able to look to the Nation for leadership in such matters.

I herewith transmit a copy of the full text of the proceedings.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Syllabi of Conference Resolutions

The conference on the Care of Dependent Children held by invitation of the President in Washington, D. C., January 25 and 26, 1909, reached the following conclusions:

1. Home care.—Children of worthy parents or deserving mothers should, as a rule, be kept with their parents at home.

2. Preventive work.—Society should endeavor to eradicate causes of dependency, like disease and to substitute compensation and insurance for relief.

3. Home finding.—Homeless and neglected children, if normal, should be cared for in families, when practicable.

4. Cottage system.—Institutions should be on the cottage plan with small units, as far as possible.

5. Incorporation.—Agencies caring for dependent children should be incorporated, on approval of a suitable State board.

6. State inspection.—The State should inspect the work of all agencies which care for dependent children.

7. Inspection of educational work.—Educational work of institutions and agencies caring for dependent children should be supervised by State educational authorities.

8. Facts and records.—Complete histories of dependent children and their parents should be recorded for guidance of child caring agencies.

9. Physical care.—Every needy child should receive the best medical and surgical attention, and be instructed in health and hygiene.

10. Cooperation.—Local child-caring agencies should cooperate and establish joint bureaus of information.

11. Undesirable legislation.—Prohibitive legislation against transfer of dependent children between States should be repealed.

12. Permanent organization.—A permanent organization for work along the line of these resolutions is desirable.

13. Federal Children's Bureau.—Establishment of a Federal Children's Bureau is desirable, and enactment of pending bill is earnestly recommended.

14. Suggest special message to Congress favoring Federal Children's Bureau and other legislation applying above principles to District of Columbia and other Federal territory.

PROCEEDS TO AID THE NEEDY POOR

Social Functions Planned for Year to Enable Carrying Out of Charity

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society, No. 27, is making elaborate plans for a social evening to be given February 17 in Fraternity Hall, 1st Fourteenth street, for the benefit of the relief fund of the organization. A series of social functions will be given by the society this year for the purpose of raising a fund to carry on its work among the sick and needy. Cases of destitution and poverty are brought to the notice of the directors and officers of that body during the month. It is the object of the society to alleviate the suffering of those in distress.

Much interest is being displayed in the coming social function, which bids fair to be an unqualified success. Dancing will be one of the attractions of the evening.

Officers of Society

The officers of the organization are Mrs. Harry Knapp, president; Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy, secretary; Miss Theresa O'Connell, marshal, Mrs. Charles Harrin, treasurer, Mrs. George Schmidt, financial secretary.

The committees in charge of the details of the affair are as follows:

Reception—Mrs. Harry Knapp (chairman), Mrs. John F. Hamlin, Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. J. Bills, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. M. Cunningham, Mrs. Edward Carroll and Miss M. Byrne.

Music—Mrs. Russell Fitton, Mrs. Edward Carroll and Mrs. M. L. Trickett.

Refreshments—Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. M. Cunningham, Mrs. McSorley.

Decorations—Miss Theresa O'Connell, Mrs. M. Donovan, Miss Tessie O'Connell. The assistants are Mrs. McKowan, Mrs. Frank Garcia, Miss Agnes Harris, Miss Carrie McKowan, Miss Hazel McCoy.

NOTED IRISH ACTOR TO SING AT ENTERTAINMENT

Joseph Murphy, the famous Irish actor and singer, will again appear in some of his song successes on the occasion of the Young Men's Auxiliary entertainment to be given on next Friday evening in St. Anthony's hall, Sixteenth avenue and Sixteenth street.

Murphy was the original interpreter of the leading roles in the two great Irish plays, "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rue," in which he appeared throughout the East and West.

Since his retirement from the stage his protege, Arthur Cunningham, who a short time ago scored successes in "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rue" at Ye Liberty, Murphy will sing his famous composition, "A Handful of Earth" and other pathetic and popular pieces.

WANT BENEDICTS TO HAVE TITLE

Suggest That Bachelors and Married Men Should Be Distinguished

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—What sort of a title should a married man bear? A State law may decide this question if the proposition put up to State Senator Samuel A. Ettelson goes through. The senator has been approached by a number of unmarried women who say that married men are constantly imposing upon them because it is impossible from a plain introduction of "Mister" to tell whether they are married or not.

Senator Ettelson is considering the matter.

"The married men ought to be segregated," said he. "An unmarried woman is 'Miss,' a married woman 'Mrs.' That arrangement is highly satisfactory. It is calculated to promote harmony between the sexes. Now, if the thing works one way, why won't it work the other? Let us differentiate between the benedicts and the bachelors. Let us make it a felony for a married man to use the bachelor's title. The change will be for the good of society. It will be a bulwark for the home. It will protect susceptible unmarried ladies. It will abolish at one blow all the married flirts."

MYSTERY STILL CLOUDS WOMAN'S DISAPPEARANCE

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The mystery of the coat, hat, hand baggage and other woman's accessories found on the lake front the night of February 7 has been partly cleared up by Mrs. Mary Casaway, proprietor of a rooming house.

"The woman came here about two weeks ago," said Mrs. Casaway. "She said her name was Mrs. Lewis and when I asked her if she was employed down town, she told me she had no employment, but she was sick and desired a good rest. She went out for a walk every evening and was gone usually about one hour.

"I became frightened this afternoon and thought possibly the woman was dead in her room and we opened the door. There was not a scrap of paper nor a letter to indicate the woman's identity."

SOUTHWEST IN GRIP OF TERRIBLE BLIZZARD

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—With a temperature of seven degrees above zero and snow still falling, Kansas City today faced the second blizzard of the winter. During the early hours today street cars were at a standstill, while telephone and telegraph service was almost demoralized. All railroads entering the city reported their trains many hours behind schedule. In some parts of the city, the prevailing strong wind had banked the snow into high drifts.

Snow has fallen all over the southwest. Temperatures have dropped from three to fifty degrees in forty-eight hours. However, the weather is clearing in Western Kansas and while there will probably be a further fall of five degrees, the worst of the storm is over.

19 BELOW ZERO IN NORFOLK, NEBRASKA

OMAHA, Feb. 15.—Although the high wind which prevailed last night had subsided, the weather bureau today reported six below zero. Telegraph and telephone wires were out of commission in many directions. A special from Norfolk, Nebraska, reports the temperature this morning nineteen below zero, the coldest since February, 1907.

Prevents La Grippe, Fever and Chills, and Cures Constipation.

The cause of la grippe is disputed but that the functions of stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys are affected is certain. They simply "quit work." To get these organs to working again, and to do it quickly the following preparation is now recognized as the most effective. It seems to be the most efficient treatment known for fever, chills, la grippe, constipation and liver disorders.

Take two or three teaspoonfuls at once and then follow directions.

Any leading druggist will mix it or get the ingredients and mix at home to insure against substituting.

One ounce aromatic fluid cascara, one ounce compound essence cardiol and two ounces aromatic syrup of rhubarb. Mix, and adults take from ½ to 2 teaspoonfuls after each meal. Children may be given five drops to a teaspoonful after eating. This may be used with ever increasing benefit until a cure is effected.

BURGLARS SPEND A BUSY SUNDAY

Many Residences About the City Are Entered and Ransacked by Thieves

Burglars spent a busy Sunday in Oakland yesterday, breaking the commandment "Thou shalt not steal" on numerous occasions.

G. Ratto, residing at 1591 Third street, reported to the police that during his absence and that of his brother, yesterday afternoon some one entered his home through a rear door and stole money to the amount of $745.

Miss Alice Cummings, who is in charge of the G. W. Dodge residence, 3999 West street, during the family's stay in Los Angeles, reports to the police that the place was entered last night and thoroughly ransacked. Just what was taken she does not know, but will have to await the return of the family from the southern part of the State. Burglars entered the home of Mrs. D. Bender, 509 Tenta street, sometime between 11 o'clock last night and 2 o'clock this morning, and stole a gold watch valued at $25. An entrance was effected by means of a key.

ZERO BLIZZARD RAGES IN EAST

Storm Causes Much Suffering, Ties up Railways and Hurls Down Wires

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The sleet storm, which has tied up the middlewest, is moving eastward, leaving suffering and destruction in its wake. In Nebraska the temperature has fallen below zero and in Texas it is unusually cold. Heavy loss among cattle is feared.

Thousands of telegraph poles are down in Missouri and neighboring states, while passenger traffic has been badly hampered by a heavy snow fall in Minnesota, in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio similar conditions prevail.

Suffering Among Poor

Unlike the January blizzard, the present storm has not taken human life, although the cities visited reported the usual amount of suffering among the unfortunate.

The middle states east of the Mississippi and the Gulf states are getting the full force of the storm. A cold wave is in prospect for some days in the northwest.

Street Lines Helpless

One of the serious results of the blizzard is the demoralization of street railway service in the cities and the tieing up of interurban traffic throughout the country. Indications are that the blockade will speedily be lifted.

South of Chicago the storm cut a clean path through the wires. A message to reach Indianapolis from this city had to be sent via Albany, N. Y., Washington, back to Cleveland, south to Louisville and thence north to Indianapolis. Detroit was reported by way of Toledo and Cleveland.

Messages to Des Moines, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph and Kansas City were sent by way of St. Paul.

Snow in Topeka

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 15.—The mercury registered four degrees above at 7 o'clock this morning. There was a 14-mile wind, which blew a fine snow, which was falling into drifts. Street car traffic was tied up for a time. The ground is covered with two inches of sleet and snow.

Fear Loss of Life

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 15.—Oklahoma is today in the grasp of one of the worst storms in her history. Telephone and telegraph wires are down in every direction. Cattle upon the range are reported suffering and there probably will be a severe loss of livestock. The wind is blowing at the rate of 25 miles an hour. Zero temperatures were reported all over the state today. Much anxiety is felt for a number of school land appraisers working in Beaver county who have not been heard of since Saturday.

All trains are many hours late, while many branch lines have discontinued service entirely.

HARRIMAN TO LIVE IN TENTED TOWN

Railroad "Wizard" Plans Leading Simple Life While in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 15.—In anticipation of the coming of E. H. Harriman and party, who will spend several months in the vicinity of San Antonio hunting and fishing, a snug little tented city has sprung up at the Hotel Well, near the city, where the headquarters of the party will be established. The party will consist of Harriman, his daughter, Miss Mary Harriman, R. W. Gillette and J. L. Barahan, president of the Illinois Central Railway. While life in tents will be a novel departure for Harriman and his guests, ample provision has been made for their convenience. The floors of the tents are hard wood, the sides are of an extra thickness and the furnishings complete. The tented village will be lighted by electricity and telephone wires have been strung. Automobiles have also been placed at the disposal of the party, who should arrive tonight or tomorrow.

VICTIMS OF MAINE HONORED TO-DAY

On 11th Anniversary of Catastrophe, Military and Religious Services for Dead

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Memories of the men who were plunged to sudden death when the battleship Maine went down in the waters of Havana harbor, eleven years ago today, were honored in song and story today in observance of the day by the military, religious and patriotic bodies.

Beautiful and impressive were the ceremonies at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, where a military mass was celebrated for the dead by Rev. Thomas E. McGuigan. Rev. Dr. William T. Russel, pastor of St. Patrick's, delivered the eulogy. A pilgrimage was made to Arlington, where the memorial shaft towers above 166 of the Maine's victims, and services unusual in their solemnity were conducted in the presence of a throng of people.

Admiral Sigsbee Speaks

Rear Admiral Sigsbee, retired, commander of the ill-fated battleship, was the chief speaker, and in his address he depicted the story of the stirring words which led the nation to war.

"On that dark, overcast night, eleven years ago," he said, "and ominous quiet night, eleven years ago," he said, "taps took on a new meaning to the survivors of the Maine. They were sounded that night with extreme solemnity. In the pauses the echoes rolled back from the hills with such distinctness that all must have listened and heard. Taps, the nightly signal for silence and sleep, was the signal for the last distinctive sound heard by the men in life, before the last for in one half-hour the men in life, for in one half-hour they were dead—for the greater part died in their sleep, and the bugler himself as dead. He had sounded a requiem for himself and his shipmates."

Several others delivered brief addresses. Two troops of mounted men from Fort Myer fired the salutes. A large floral tribute was sent by President Roosevelt and many wreaths were sent by individuals and patriotic organizations.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS TO HOLD WHIST TOURNEY

Aloha Parlor, N. D. G. W., has made extensive plans for a whist tournament to be given tomorrow evening in the lodge rooms in Woodmen Hall. Dr. Veda Derrick is chairman of the affair. Native Daughters from the various parlors of the bay region have been extended an invitation to take part in the tourney. The parlor has many skilled whist players, who will be matched with clever card players from the various branches of the order.

That Is What They Say About Them in Oakland, and It Is, Therefore, Reliable.

Another proof, more evidence, Oakland testimony to swell the long list of local people who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convincing endorsement of that remarkable preparation:

J. D. Evans, 1016 East Fourteenth street, East Oakland, Cal., says: "Kidney trouble began to bother me a long time ago and I was in its grasp before I realized it. Backache caused me to suffer severely, I could not get my proper rest and arose in the morning tired and worn out. I was often seized with dizzy spells, during which I would reel. I ran down in health until I became but a shadow of my former self and was hardly able to get around. I doctored and used many kinds of medicine, but did not succeed in finding relief and was in a terrible condition, when I began to use Doan's Kidney Pills. In a short time I was helped a great deal. I continued and was cured so completely that I have since been free from pain and distress."

The Man Who Eats Well

And Enjoys Food Lives Life As He Should and Gets the Most From It.

The man who eats is the man who works, and the man who works is the man who wins. Tireless workers depend upon a storehouse of vim and vigor. India is noted for its fasters and its dreamers, Europe and America for their eaters and their workers.

In America we have been doing nothing but work this past quarter of a century. That is why our old men say, "In my days no one had dyspepsia." Of course, all men in those days ate and worked, now they work and eat.

If eating interferes with business, men give up eating. This is good logic for the dollar getter, but poor wisdom for the man who really wants to live.

Abuse of anything God given results in punishment, and man is a pigmy when it comes to cheating his system.

If you take from the system that which is intended should remain, or put into it that which is intended should be kept out, you are cheating yourself, and sooner or later pay the penalty.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are concentrated vegetable and fruit essences which give the system every fluid, stimulant and ingredient necessary to gain the fullest strength from everything which goes into the stomach, or to keep from the system everything which should not lay and decay in it.

If you will eat fast and improperly, if you will drink and eat irregularly and to excess, then give to Nature as you do so enough of the essences she demands to neutralize the bad effects of your habits.

After a meal take a Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet, and the meal won't hurt you or your stomach.

After a midnight dinner take a Stuart tablet and you will sleep well and get up without a breath which is filled with the decay of the midnight meal.

Fortify your stomach like you do your business. Fortunes when lost can be regained, but the stomach outraged sticks with you to the finish, and you know it is there.

If you want to know what these tablets will do, buy a package from any druggist, price 50 cents or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

Amending the Criminal Code

The lawmakers at Sacramento have been wrestling with the problem of revising the code of criminal procedure. Some of the ideas expressed are amazing. Some of the theories expounded evidence profound ignorance of the history, nature and purpose of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence, and of the reasons for the existing methods of ascertaining the truth in criminal trials and empaneling a jury of impartial laymen to apply to the facts the law as given by the court.

It was assumed by some of the proponents of the proposition to limit the defense to the same number of peremptory challenges that is allotted to the prosecution that the chief purpose of procedure in criminal trials is to insure the conviction of accused persons. They are oblivious to the fact that the object of a trial is to ascertain whether an accused person is innocent or guilty, and that the law aims to select a jury who will give the defendant an impartial hearing and to afford him protection, if necessary, from judicial unfairness and oppression. For while the theory of the law is that judges are fair and just, experience has demonstrated that unfair and unjust judges some times get on the bench. Corruption in the judiciary is not entirely unknown.

The purpose of the law is to defend the innocent even more than it is to punish the guilty. It is abhorrent to the ethics of the law that an innocent person should suffer the shame and dishonor and injustice of penal servitude or the gallows, and hence the highest considerations of justice and mercy have dictated the safeguards embodied in our jurisprudence against the conviction of the innocent. While the arm of the law is strong to punish the guilty it is equally strong, or should be, to protect the guiltless and the weak.

Human wisdom for a thousand years has striven to provide instrumentalities for the punishment of crime which cannot be employed to persecute and oppress the innocent, which cannot be used by crafty malevolence or cupidity to achieve criminal ends in the name of justice.

It is the theory of the law that accused persons are presumed to be innocent till proved guilty by certain processes defined by the law itself. But the fact that a person is officially charged with crime and brought to trial creates a popular presumption of guilt. The legal presumption of innocence is interposed as a barrier against the popular presumption of guilt. The defense is given twice as many peremptory challenges to offset the prejudice naturally created by a formal accusation of villainy, a prejudice that is often accompanied by passion aroused by personal, political or religious antagonisms; also as a safeguard against collusion between the bench and the prosecuting officers to insure conviction. Such collusion is not unknown—in fact, instances of it are rather numerous in California. With a Judge and a District Attorney doing team work to insure conviction the defendant is at a tremendous disadvantage. If the Sheriff whose duty it is to summon jurymen is also in collusion the plight of the accused is indeed desperate. While such collusion is rare and exceptional, it is possible at all times and has occurred with such frequency as render safeguards against it necessary. If the State were given a hundred peremptory challenges they would not serve the cause of justice if bench and prosecuting officer were doing team work to acquit a defendant. The task of protecting the guilty defendant would be made easier in such case by multiplying the State's peremptory challenges.

To illustrate: In the Calhoun trial up to date 805 veniremen have been summoned, and of these Judge Lawlor has excused without examination by the attorneys over 500, leaving considerably less than 300 of the number summoned to be examined in open court touching their qualifications to serve as jurors.

These figures are quoted as an illustration because they present a contemporaneous example of the hypothetical condition to which our argument is intended to apply. It is not our intention to discuss the merits of the Calhoun case or to criticize the acts of Judge Lawlor. The impropriety of doing so while the trial is in progress is obvious. Hence what has been done in empaneling a jury in that case is cited here merely as a concrete illustration of facts which can be employed to point a moral and emphasize a broad general argument.

Suppose a Judge and a District Attorney were doing team work to convict a defendant, what better method could be devised than for the Judge to arbitrarily excuse two-thirds of the veniremen without giving the defendant's attorneys a chance to see whether they were legally disqualified or not? Suppose the Judge were supplied with secret information gathered by the prosecution regarding the veniremen, and acted upon it in weeding out the venire.

Would not that be equivalent to giving the prosecution a hundred challenges to the defendant's one. The Judge can also multiply the State's challenges by excusing men in the exercise of his judicial discretion who have legally qualified themselves but who are objected to by the prosecution.

Now to complete the hypothesis, let us suppose that the administration of the criminal law has fallen into the hands of private persons having vengeances to wreak and ulterior ends to serve, and that a corps of private detectives is employed in feeling out prospective jurymen, hunting up their records and prying into their habits, social and business connections, and supplying in advance the information so gained to the collusive prosecution.

As was said of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," all this might occur, in whole or in part, and hence the law has made some provision to protect a defendant against such machinations. It is a small and feeble safeguard, to be sure—ten peremptory challenges against five—but it is something of a concession to the spirit of justice and fairness. Why should it be withdrawn? The effect of such a withdrawal would render convictions more certain undeniably, but it would place the weak, the unpopular and the poor at a still greater disadvantage in the courts. It would strengthen tyranny and wrong and oppression, and it would potentially aid conspiracies to prostitute judicial process and corrupt justice in its temples.

Venezuela is freeing herself rapidly from the foreign entanglements in which she was involved by Castro. An agreement has been reached with the United States which removes all the cause of complaint and refers to The Hague tribunal for settlement such claims as certain American commercial companies hold against the Venezuelan government. The decree which Castro issued prohibiting the traffic of small vessels between Curacao and Venezuela, which caused the rupture with The Netherlands, has been revoked, and no doubt President Gomez will square things later with Great Britain, Germany, France and other European nations with which Venezuela has been at outs for the past two years or more.

In every branch of business in Oakland the most optimistic views of the future are being cherished, and the inauguration of business activity is expected to accompany the setting in of fine weather.

Pacific Coast Naval Stations

In a recent interview, Admiral Schley, now on the retired list, expressed the opinion that the Pacific Coast should be supplied with at least twenty-eight drydocks and naval stations, the central station being at Mare Island, and a strong battleship fleet cruising in Pacific waters, as the best assurance of peace. "If," he significantly remarked, "we possessed more guns, more steam power and more powder in the Pacific Coast region, it is possible that we would hear less talk of war."

We have at present on the Pacific Coast only two naval stations, one at Mare Island and the other at Bremerton, Puget Sound. These are situated a thousand miles apart, and each navy yard contains only one drydock. In other words, outside of a few private drydocks, the government is dependent upon the two drydocks at these naval stations for the cleaning and repairing of its warships on the Pacific Coast. These drydocks are required to accommodate all classes and types of ships in the navy.

The scarcity of drydocks and naval stations constitutes clearly, as Admiral Schley has pointed out, the weak point in the naval defense of the Pacific Coast. It was demonstrated during the recent visit of the Atlantic battleship fleet here, when it took several weeks to drydock and overhaul the vessels preparatory to the long voyage to the Antipodes and thence to the Orient and home again.

The naval policy of the government is to keep on constructing more battleships. At each session of Congress it has been urging the granting of appropriations for the building annually of four new ships of this type. Two battleships were provided for last year and two more are provided for at the present session. But while the Navy Department and Congress are building battleships with the avowed intention of equally protecting both coasts of the country, nothing is being done to increase the naval docking facilities on the Pacific Coast. The question naturally suggests itself: Why should we continue to build battleships and Congress neglect to make proper provision for naval stations and drydocks for the proper care of the ships after they are built? Admiral Schley has summed up the situation in a nutshell when he says this coast needs twenty-eight more naval stations and drydocks. We want a strong battleship fleet in Pacific waters, but we want also suitable drydocks and naval stations where they can be properly overhauled and equipped.

Regulating the Professions.

Two bills are pending before the Legislature affecting the professions. One of them is a bill requiring veterinary surgeons to hold a college diploma before being permitted to practice. The other is a bill to correct palpable defects in the existing dental law—defects that have been productive of much injustice and evil. There is no question in the minds of those familiar with the operation of the dental law that it was directly responsible for the suicide of Dr. W. H. Craig, who had been for a quarter of a century or more one of the best known dental practitioners in Oakland. He was well skilled in his profession, but was not a college graduate. He had mastered his profession through non-collegiate agencies and intelligent personal application, study and practical experience.

Twenty-five or thirty years ago, before any law governing the dental profession was in force, a contention arose in the California Dental Association over the control of the organization and it caused a schism in the membership which resulted in an appeal to the Legislature and the passage of a law regulating the practice of dentistry and creating a State Board of Examiners, providing for the issuance of licenses, the exclusion from practice of those who did not comply with the conditions imposed, and the imposition of penalties for the law's infractions. Up to that time, dentistry was classed in this State as a mechanical art, not as a scientific profession. The control of practical dentistry passed, through the operation of this law, into the hands of a college educated clique and there it has remained ever since. And every man or woman who has subsequently qualified to practice, without passing through college training, has been harried, and there has been trouble galore.

About the same time that this evolution in the dental profession occurred the Legislature was induced to pass a law providing for the creation of organizations clothed with powers to issue diplomas to practice medicine. The bill was framed and its passage was advocated by the so-called "regular school of alopaths." It was intended to exclude homeopaths and eclectics and suppress quackery. The law was drawn so loosely that the quacks were the first to take advantage of it, to organize under it, issue licenses to themselves and legalize their standing. As to the other schools of medicine, it became easy to follow suit.

But the State Board of Medical Examiners has since been able to get incorporated in the law such hard fast rules that about a year ago the president of the Wisconsin or Michigan State Medical Association declared in his annual address that California, which he just visited, had become one of the States where experience does not count and that only those who have just graduated from college and are fresh in the elementaries of the profession, which old practitioners have long forgotten, can hope to qualify. The examinations are loaded with "catch" questions, he asserted, and long experience and a well-established reputation in other States do not count for anything.

The viciousness of the veterinary bill pending before the Legislature is that it requires a practitioner or a candidate for admission to practice shall hold a diploma from a veterinary college; and yet the State contains a long list of veterinary surgeons who have been practicing successfully for half a century and are skilled in their profession who have not had a college education. The bill is an absurdity and should be so treated, for the college course is based on the knowledge acquired by those who had no college opportunities through hard-earned practical experience.

The farmers and vineyardists are going to have a hard fight to get rid of the meadowlarks, which are raiding their properties. The humane organizations throughout the State are combining to protest against the indiscriminate slaughter of these birds, on the ground that it "is vicious, outrageous and demoralizing, propagating a line of cruelty among adults and children of the most degrading type." Of course, there is an element of cruelty and viciousness associated with the slaughter of all animals, but it is one of the inevitable results of the conflict that must be constantly waged for the preservation of human existence.

The world is full of anomalies. Within the past few weeks cattle were drowning in the Sacramento valley because of the heavy rains and flood, and now comes the news from Llano county, Texas, which is a great cattle region, that a protracted drought is killing off stock, the prairies being bare of grass and water scarce. Chopping leaf-laden branches from trees is being resorted to for fodder to save the survivors in the herds.

Mississippi is shipping north its crop of new strawberries at 2 cents a berry. When the first of the season's crop blushes into perfection in the far south they do not jam the berries rudely into boxes and sell them to the first comer at so much a quart. The berries are carefully counted out like new-laid eggs, and a price is put on each single berry. This gives them more individuality and it is easier to see just how much in ready money each member of the family around the table consumes at a sitting. Mother can say, "Aunt Jane, won't you really have 12 cents' worth more of strawberries?" at the same time making a bluff at offering to dish out six to her.

GREAT PROBLEM OF HUMAN LIFE

Heart Can Be Revived Long After the Owner Has Passed Away

In the February McClure's Burton J. Hendrick describes the experiments in transplanting animal organs conducted at the Rockefeller Institute by Dr. Alexis Carrel. Dr. Carrel preserves animal tissues in cold storage for many weeks.

"To the unscientific citizen it is something of a surprise to learn that large parts of the body are alive and useful after the phenomenon popularly known as death has taken place. Few of us suspect, for example, that our kidneys and hearts, after we have died ourselves, can in most cases be resuscitated, and that if by some surgical miracle they could be transplanted into another body, they would quickly resume their functions. This, however, is a well demonstrated medical fact. The human heart has been removed from the body more than thirty hours after death and made to beat again. Dr. Carrel himself has taken the heart from one dog and inserted it in the neck of another, connecting the aorta with the carotid artery of the new heart, and the vena cava with the jugular vein. In a few moments the live dog had two hearts rythmically beating, one recording a pulse of 88 and the other 100.

"Science has yet framed no precise definition of death. The human body teems and quivers with life, only a small part of which becomes a part of individual consciousness. The healthy man hardly realizes the numerous organs, The alimentary canal is the abiding place of millions of microorganisms, the activities of which only occasionally influence our daily life. Bodily tissue everywhere is constantly breaking down and constantly building up; and yet it is only in the last few years that even science has begun to understand the beautiful chemical reactions involved in the process."

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering."—Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Overcoats Stolen While the Victims Were Worshipping in Edifice

Sneak thieves entered the vestibule of the First Unitarian Church last night during services and stole overcoats belonging to Alexander and William Rattray, residing at 1062 Dennison street. Dr. Pauline Nunbaumer, a member of the congregation, reported the thefts to the police.

Complaints from the church of Rev. Dr. George White recently caused that divine to have a member of his flock, William J. McFarland, appointed as a special policeman. Since then no further reports of thefts have come to the notice of the police.

DENIES INVESTIGATING DENTAL BOARD'S BOOKS

On Friday evening an article appeared in the columns of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE discussing the State dental laws and their administration, in which the author made use of my name without my knowledge or consent.

It was stated that I called on the secretary of the State Board of Dental Examiners to learn about the disbursement of moneys in its possession and to see their books. This was an error, as I made no such inquiry. I called on the secretary on other business, but as the board had none of my money I had no occasion to be interested. Dr. Schmidt was with me upon that occasion and my recollection is that he called for that purpose and did make such inquiries.

I will thank Dr. Schmidt if he will consult me first when he wants to tell the public what my affidavit will be upon any subject. F. O. JACOBS.

SOCIETY SMART SET

WEDDING OF MISS OCHS AND MRS. DAVIES TO BE SOLEMNIZED THIS EVENING

MRS. HARRY MAXWELL ENTERTAINS LARGE BRIDGE PARTY

MRS. MAURITZ L. LUNDBERG, Who was Miss Inez Scott. —Arrowsmith Photo.

MISS ATELLA KEITH, A Complimented Guest.

The wedding of Miss Bertha Ochs and James A Davis, which will be solemnized this evening at the First Presbyterian Church the Rev Dr. Goodspeed officiating. All the appointments are most elaborate and the event will be one of the most elaborate of the winter. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Gustav Ochs and a girl of much personal charm. Mr Davis is a promising young San Francisco attorney, and it is in that city that the young couple are to make their home. Miss Amy Ochs will attend her sister as maid of honor and the sextette of bridesmaids will include Miss Elsie Zeile, Miss Edna Osborn, Miss Edna Mauerhan, Miss Rita Haynes, Miss Esther Edwards and Miss Kate Cathcart.

The best man will be Ernest Ochs, and the ushers will include Jack Conroy, Thomas Roath, James B. Catheart, John J. Valentine, Albert Ochs and Walter Christie.

An innovation will be made in the bridal procession. Miss Ochs coming into the church alone and will be followed by her parents, who will both unite in giving her away. A pretty sentiment will be woven into the bridal gown, instead of the usual orange wreath to confine the veil. The bride will wear a wreath of myrtle, the same wreath having been worn by the bride's mother and grandmother on similar happy occasions. The church has been handsomely decorated with greens and white blossoms, while at the Ochs home, where an elaborate reception will follow the church ceremony, acacia will be chosen for the decorative scheme.

The gowns of the wedding party have all been made after the empire model and are exquisite in color and material. The maid of honor instead of the conventional shower boquet will carry a muff of Cecil Bruner roses, the bridesmaids carrying muffs of maidon hair fern.

Several hundred guests have been asked for the church ceremony, only the more intimate friends being asked for the home reception.

BRIDGE FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

Mrs Harry Maxwell entertained this afternoon in honor of Miss Lillian Penberthy, the attractive fiancee of Dr Albert Cosad. Twenty-eight guests shared the pleasures at the bridge tables after the game about a dozen friends calling to join the guests at the tea table.

Mrs. Maxwell has one of the ideal homes in the Piedmont district, which was especially attractive today with its decorations of spring blossoms. In the drawing room and reception halls pussy willows and jonquils made an effective combination, fruit blossoms were used in profusion in the beautiful Chinese dining room.

Hearts were used in every conceivable form and a unique feature was the beautiful large valentine with the name of each guest inscribed which was given Miss Penberthy as a souvenir of the occasion.

Each guest came prepared with a limerick, dedicated to the guest of honor, which was read at the supper table, the best one receiving a prize. The limericks were also presented to Miss Penberthy to put with her collection of pre-nuptial affairs.

Dr. Cosad is building an attractive home in Piedmont and when it is completed the date for the wedding will be announced.

INTERESTING EVENT.

The Berkeley Piano Club, so well-known for the high-class programs given by its members, and in concerts which are given under its auspices, will present Miss Caroline Halsted Little in a song recital tomorrow evening (Tuesday), in Wilkins' Hall, Haste street, near Telegraph avenue, Berkeley.

Miss Little has recently returned from her third journey to Europe, where she studied with the greatest vocal teachers—Signora de Ruda and Stockhausen in Berlin; Madame Pediotto in Paris; Antonio Cotogni in Rome, and during her last visit abroad with Mme Regina de Sales and Lili Lehmann in Berlin. Mme Lehmann often gave the young singer a two hour lesson so enthusiastic and so charmed was she with Miss Little's talent and progress.

While abroad Miss Little gave two very successful recitals, in Munich and in London, in both of which she received great praise from the critics, and sang to very large audiences.

It is to be hoped that our California girl, who returns to us a finished vocal artiste, will be greeted with as fine an audience and as much appreciation on Tuesday evening at her home-coming concert as she received in foreign lands.

The program for the concert contains many beautiful German lied, charming French and Italian songs also Scotia's ballad from "The Flying Dutchman."

SORORITY ENTERTAINED.

Mrs A R Perge of Etna street entertained the freshmen and sophomores of her daughter Marie's sorority, Gamma Phi Beta, on Thursday evening. Dancing was enjoyed by about twenty coup

THE COLONIAL CLUB.

The next dance given by the Colonial Club will take place February 27, at Ebell Hall, as usual.

The dances last year, five in number, were most delightful affairs and each gathering this season, seems to add to the reputation of the club.

Mr. and Mrs W. Terrill,	Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Nelson,
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Arper,	Mr and Mrs. Roy Reed,

BRIDGE AND LINEN SHOWER.

Miss Herinda Nowell entertained at her attractive home on Seventh avenue on Saturday afternoon, February 13. The motif for the pretty affair was Miss Hazel Gentry, the pretty and attractive fiancee of George W Robinson Jr.

The dining room and reception room were beautifully decorated in feathery ferns, smilax and enchantress carnations.

The afternoon was spent in the fascinating game of bridge, after which followed a dainty menu served under the direction of Hallahan.

The affair was in the nature of a linen shower. The complimented guest was the recipient of many dainty gifts.

Among the invited guests were:

Mrs J. W. Gentry	Mrs. G. Loken
Miss Hazel Gentry	Mrs Chas Cushing
Miss Mabel Gentry	Miss Barker
Mrs G. W. Robinson	Miss Ruth Barker

PRETTY HOME CEREMONY.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening, February 9, when Miss Inez F. Scott became the bride of Mauritz L. Lundaburg, the Rev Thomas A Bover officiating.

The house was artistically decorated in green and white flowers.

The bride is the only daughter of Captain and Mrs. George Scott. She was gowned in a simple white messaline satin gown and carried lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was Miss Mae L. Lundine, a cousin of the bridgroom. She was becomingly gowned in an empire gown of Nile green silk and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

The best man was I S Hanson, a cousin of Mr. Lundberg. Only the immediate relatives were present. Mr Lundberg has furnished a cozy bungalow in Dover street which he and his bride will occupy upon their return from the honeymoon journey.

COSMOS CLUB.

The members of the Cosmos Club were entertained today at the home of Mrs H. C. Morris on Vernon street. The club membership includes:

Mrs Edson F. Adams	Mrs E. G Lukens
Mrs. T. L. Barker	Mrs Will Mock

ENJOYABLE SURPRISE PARTY.

On Friday evening a pleasant surprise was tendered to Robert King Sr., at his home on Thirty-seventh street, in honor of his seventy-fifth birthday. Mr King came to Oakland over a score of years ago, and "Pop," as he is familiarly known to his many friends, was the most active participant in the night's affair, and did not retire until the last auto said honk, honk.

The greater part of the evening was passed pleasantly in playing progressive whist, after which an elaborate supper was served.

Among those present were:

Mr and Mrs. Theodore Schluster	Mr. and Mrs. T. James Carlie
Mr and Mrs George Lloyd	Mrs E Lafferty
Mr and Mrs David Aronson	Mrs M. Little
Mr and Mrs William Stinson	Mrs E Musladin
Mr and Mrs Ward L Pelton	Mrs Agnes E. Emlay
Mr and Mrs David Kron	T Gilmer
	George Lowder
	Fred Emlay
	James Hunter King
	Robert King Jr.

COMPLIMENTED GUEST.

Mrs Clayton Bush entertained recently in honor of Miss Lulu Pyburn of San Francisco. The affair also served as a house warming for Mr and Mrs Bush have just moved into their new home "Arandel House," on Wakefield avenue, East Oakland.

The rooms were elaborately trimmed in hearts, cupids and flowers, the decorations being in keeping with St. Valentine's day.

An informal musical program and dancing made a pleasant evening's program, after which a dainty supper was served.

Among those present were:

Mr and Mrs. I J Woolley	C. H. Bush
Mr and Mrs Dick Adams	R. Miller
Mr and Mrs Will Rancol	B. Wood
Fred Chapin	Joe Portallo
Mr and Mrs. W. Fleber	Miss Pauline Dreben
Mr. and Mrs.	Miss Edna Elliot
	Miss R. Whissel
	Miss Lucile Woolley

VALENTINE PARTY.

Mrs Frederick Dorsaz's valentine party in honor of Miss Atilla Keith this afternoon was one of the prettiest affairs of the season. Mrs Dorsaz is a charming hostess and her pretty home lends itself admirably to entertaining.

The dining table was a most attractive picture with the strings of hearts running from the chandelier to the place cards. An original design was used for the place cards, which were in the shape of valentines, but upon opening them the picture of the guest of honor was disclosed.

Miss Keith is a charming St Louis girl who is spending the winter with her aunt, Mrs. F R Chadwick, on Linden street. Her visit is the inspiration for many charming affairs which have been given by the friends of Mrs Chadwick.

MONTHLY SOCIAL.

Last Thursday evening the State of Maine Club held its regular monthly social at Maple Hall. Half a hundred members, including guests from San Francisco, Berkeley and Alameda, enjoyed the evening's entertainment, which was of unusual interest.

The music furnished by the orchestra was such as has not been heard for many years and caused the gray haired sons and daughters of Maine to enter into the spirit of dancing just as they did thirty years ago.

Everyone present joined in the march and cecilian circle which in the future will be one of the principal features of the evening's entertainment.

The next meeting will be held at Maple Hall on Thursday evening, March 11.

PRETTY DINNER PARTY.

Mr and Mrs. John Sharpe of Berkeley entertained last evening at an attractive dinner party given to compliment Miss Celia Higgins and W A Ruland, a college classmate of the host.

Messrs Ruland and Sharpe are graduates of Sewanee College, Tennessee, and the evening was happily enjoyed with music and reminiscenses of college days.

The decorations were of the college colors, purple and gold. In the dinning room purple iris and jonquils combined with ferns carried out the attractive color scheme.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE.

The weekly meeting of the Sons of St George, held at Pythian Castle, Twelfth and Alice streets, Oakland, on Wednesday evening, February 10, was well attended in spite of the storm. The usual business of the evening was transacted.

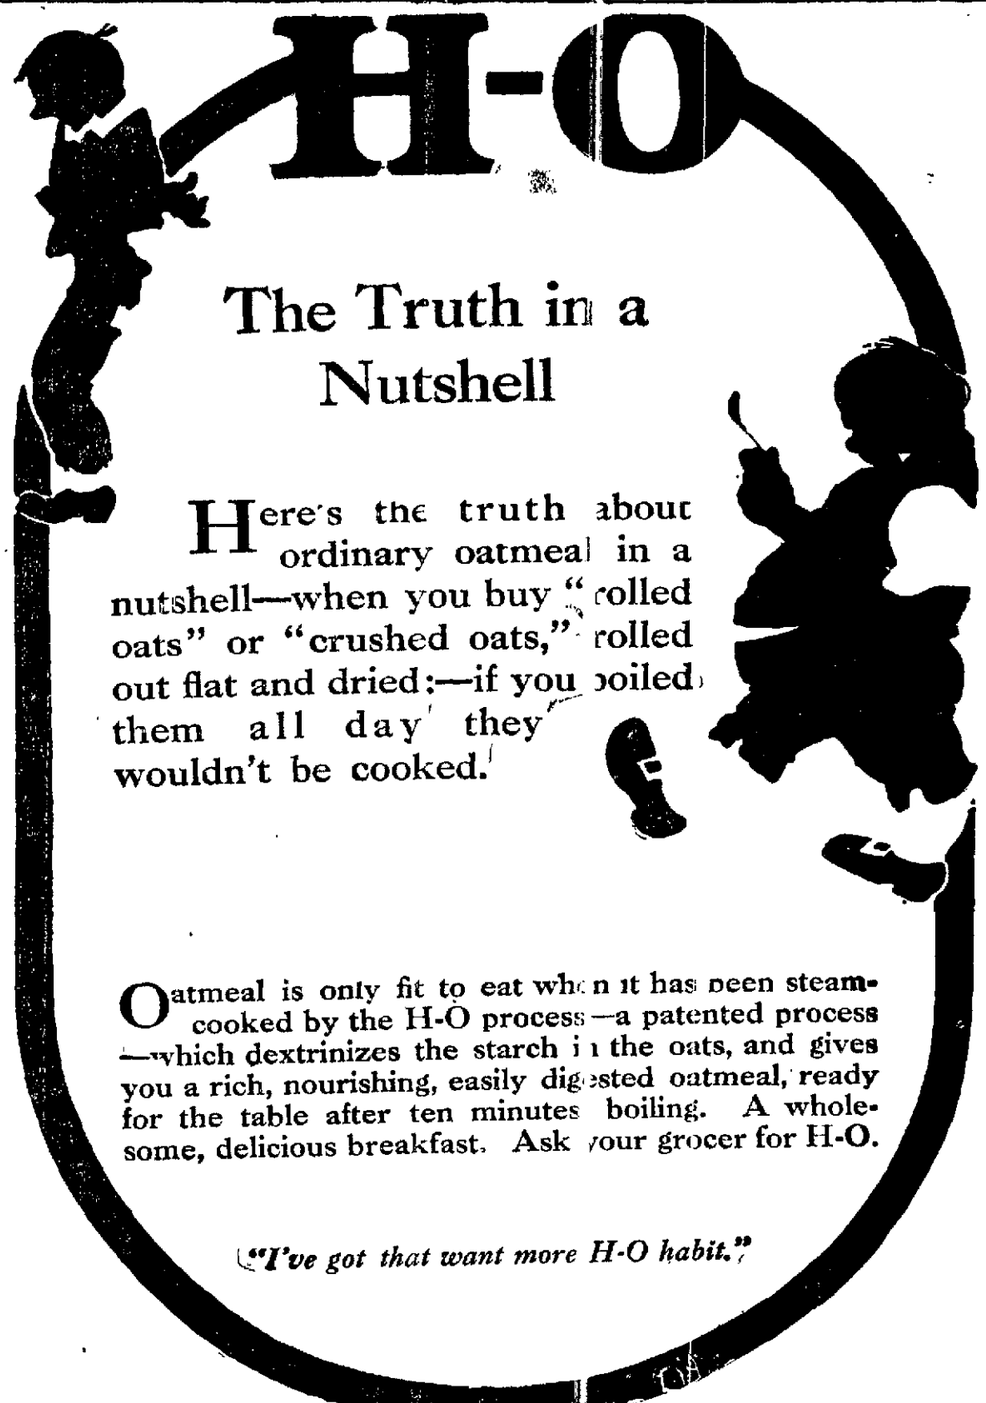
Brothers Reeves, Whittaker and Swain are still on the sick list, but are reported as improving. Several new members were obligated.

As the evening agreed upon for the literary entertainment is Ash Wednesday it has been postponed for a couple of weeks.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Eddy are registered at the Hotel Green, Pasadena.

H-O



The Truth in a Nutshell

Here's the truth about ordinary oatmeal in a nutshell—when you buy "rolled oats" or "crushed oats," rolled out flat and dried:—if you boiled them all day they wouldn't be cooked.

Oatmeal is only fit to eat when it has been steam-cooked by the H-O process—a patented process—which dextrinizes the starch in the oats, and gives you a rich, nourishing, easily digested oatmeal, ready for the table after ten minutes boiling. A wholesome, delicious breakfast. Ask your grocer for H-O.

"I've got that want more H-O habit."

GRAND CONCERT.

A concert will be given at Ebell Hall on Wednesday evening, February 17, under the auspices of St. Andrews Episcopal Church. The program will be given by artists of exceptional talent. Among those who will contribute to the program will be Miss Emilie Lancel, contralto; Miss Warner, violinste; Kenneth A. Mellican, who will contribute recitations; Miss Audrey Beers, a talented pianiste, W H. Ratcliffe, baritone and A. E. McMillian.

The proceeds will be devoted to charitable work connected with the parish.

NOTED GUESTS.

At the Oakland Club luncheon to be given Wednesday, Dr. and Mrs. Underwood will be among the guests of the day. The doctor and his wife have recently returned from Korea, where they have devoted twenty-five years of their life. Dr. Underwood, who is vitally interested in the social conditions of Korea, will speak upon that subject before the club on Wednesday.

Dr and Mrs Underwood are making a tour of the State with Mr. and Mrs Ernest Hall.

TO CLAIM INHERITANCE.

Miss Bonnie Brown is being extensively entertained by her large circle of friends on this side of the bay prior to her departure for Germany, where she is to claim part of the estate left her by her late uncle.

The announcement of her trip comes as a great surprise to her many Berkeley friends, it being told at a surprise party given Miss Brown by Miss Viola Miller, who is planning to accompany her friend to the Eastern coast. No definite date has been announced for her departure.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The engagement is announced of Miss Eda Barnum and C J. Wilder. Miss Barnum is a blonde and a very attractive girls. She is not gifted musically, but she has many gifts which make her a most desirable companion and Mr Wilder has every reason to be complimented and congratulated.

Mr Wilder is in the employ of the government, which necessitates frequent trips to the Orient. He is at present in Hongkong.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAYS.

The Misses Ostrom and McKibben entertained a number of their friends on Thursday evening, February 11, it being the anniversary of their eighteenth birthdays.

Regardless of the inclement weather few regrets were received and all apparently enjoyed a pleasant evening. A dainty supper rounded out the evening's pleasure.

PERMANENT LOCATION.

Mr and Mrs. Herbert C Chivers and family, who are here from the East have taken a suite of rooms at the Key Route Hotel, where they will be permanently located.

THE PRINCESS AND THE POOR

What She Personally Does to Aid the Poor of All Sects and All Sexes

LONDON—At a time when the distress of the very poor is at its height, it is interesting to know something of the work done by a great organization which, under the personal direction of H. R. H. the Princess of Wales, does so much to alleviate suffering. At the beginning of every winter her royal highness receives from many willing helpers an immense number of warm garments. To these she adds a great number made by her own hands, as well as by her children, the king and the Prince of Wales also contributing. These garments, which generally number about 50,000, the princess unpacks and sorts (this year two whole days were devoted to the work), and then, with great care, the grants are made to hospitals, to poor parishes, to all sorts of institutions which care for the poor and the workless. The only plea required from those who ask assistance is poverty—so that church people, dissenters, Roman Catholics, Jews, all alike share in the benefits. There is also a special branch of the work which considers the needs of poor gentlefolk.

Possibly in no previous winter has the need of such help been more keenly felt. To say nothing of the wants of the sick and helpless (for they are obvious), it has been found that a grant of clothes to a poor man, who, through being out of work, has grown shabbier and shabbier, until he could scarcely hope to get a decent job, has given him new hope by making employment possible again.

To the Princess of Wales this work is a labor of love. It was from her mother, the Duchess of Teck, that she gained her deep interest in the needs and privations of the poor, and it is in her mother's name that she continues the work. Long may the London Needlework Guild continue its mission of ministration and mercy, directed by the practical sympathy of the kindly and gracious lady who is its president.

PROMINENT SUFFRAGISTS

Criticise the "Antis"

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Talking to the William Lloyd Garrison Equal Rights Association, in the rooms of the Aldine Association, No. 111 Fifth avenue, Mrs. Henry Villard, who is a daughter of William Lloyd Garrison, alluded to the women who are opposing the enfranchisement of their sex as "a force for evil." After reading a letter which the "antis" have addressed to the legislators of the state, protesting against the plea of the suffragists for an amendment striking out the word male from the constitution, Mrs. Villard said:

"All the forces for evil are active, and I consider that this movement of women who do not see the importance of the ballot to prevent other women from getting it is a force for evil. I am sorry it exists. Such forces are ever on the alert. This one, it is true, has not always been so alert as it is now. The women behind it see that never has the cause of woman suffrage awakened so much enthusiasm, and so they have been forced to their little feeble attempts. But while they work we must not sleep. There is a tendency on the part of the advocates of a great cause to trust to the greatness of the cause, but we must not forget that something depends upon ourselves."

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch also paid her respects to the "antis."

"It is extremely interesting," she said, "to see women beg the legislators not to give them votes, and on the very same day write to the governor and say, 'Please, Mr. Governor, put us on all the state boards.' They say these appointments would be better than votes. Perhaps they would be, but they won't get the appointments until they get the votes, and I am amazed that women so intelligent as Mrs. Francis M. Scott and Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge cannot see the absurdity of their position. I am afraid some of these able women have got into that most unfortunate state of mind, obstinacy. They have committed themselves to a certain viewpoint and mean to stick to it."

The English "antis," too, came in for a share of attention. Miss Helen Drummond, of England, talked about them and said they belonged to the "parasite class," which doesn't suffer any inconvenience from present conditions and doesn't realize that others do.

It was all apropos of the hearing on the proposed constitutional amendment relating to the word "male," which is scheduled for February 24. Mrs. Villard wants a big delegation to go to Albany—two or three carloads, she suggested—this being as she said, the only way to make any impression upon the conscript fathers.

"It is hard," she said, "to touch the hearts of legislators who don't care enough about you to keep awake while you talk to them, but I am told that they are affected by a big delegation."

Mrs. Blatch was sure two or three cars would not be enough.

"We will want a special train if not two," she said. "Do with half of an Easter bonnet, if necessary"—the round trip to Albany is about $8—"but go to the hearing. Women are noted for their self-sacrifice, but heretofore they have sacrificed themselves for other people. Let us be self-sacrificing now for our selves."

Love Fetters at Home Preclude All Thoughts of Stage, Says Mary Anderson

MARY ANDERSON'S (MRS. NAVARRO) HOME AT BROADWAY, ENGLAND. THIS BEAUTIFUL OLD ENGLISH TOWN IS PRACTICALLY UNTOUCHED BY MODERN IMPROVEMENTS AND IS THE HOME OF MANY WELL-KNOWN ARTISTS.

"OUR MARY," FORMER QUEEN OF THE AMERICAN STAGE, OR MRS. MARY ANDERSON DE NAVARRO, WHO HAS JUST RETURNED TO HER NATIVE LAND AFTER EIGHT YEARS IN THE HOME OF HER ADOPTION, ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—"I do not regret my stage career," said Mary Anderson the other day. "I look back upon it as a pleasant memory for it dealt kindly with me, but I left it without regret and I have no desire to return to it. There is too much real life happiness for me to wish to go back and pretend happiness for others to enjoy. When I left the stage the playgoing public, I think, wished me to remain and entertain them. I left when they retained a memory of me as a rising actress.

"I would not wish to go back now and play old-woman parts, even if the love fetters of my home did not hold me. You can say that there is not the least truth in the reports that I intend to return to the stage or that I will even take part in theatrical entertainments.

"It is true that I have appeared in England occasionally in the interest of some charity but that is all, and then only at very rare intervals. My visit to America is purely of a social nature. We have come to renew family ties and to let our children see New York. We have come direct from our home in Worcestershire, England."

Kiss the Hallmark of Civilization and Woman's Right, Says Suffragette

"IN India," said the Rev. Horace Scudder, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Jersey City, who has organized an anti-kissing league among his congregation, "a mother takes her little child in her arms and crushes its face against her lips, just as we would do with a fragrant rose. The same principle should apply to sweethearts and husbands and wives. There is an aesthetic beauty about that custom. You take your sweetheart's face between your hands, and—why, surely it is more fragrant to you than any rose."

So much for the Rev. Dr. Scudder's opinion. Mrs. Sofia Loebinger, a prominent club woman and suffragette, is of another mind, however, says Nixola Greeley-Smith.

"Men have their noses in far too many things already," she informed me yesterday. "We have no other rights, perhaps, but, at least, our faces are our own.

Fiji Islands Custom

"Perhaps the Rev. Dr. Scudder is unaware that in the Fiji Islands it is the custom for persons in love with each other to rub noses. I fail to see, however, that New York civilization would be advanced by following this custom of the Fijians. Life has lost enough romance already, without stripping it of whatever romance the kiss confers.

"Perhaps people who kiss really do run the risk of tuberculosis, as Dr. Scudder insists, but surely that's a much less liability than that of ossification of the heart which the non-kissers incur.

"Romance is necessary to the least ideal life. Whatever Dr. Scudder may say, the sense of smell is not romantic. The same neutril that expands to the aroma of onion soup may quiver under the divine afflatus of a grand passion.

"Romance is necessary to life; kissing is necessary to romance. You remember how Cyrano de Bergerac defined the kiss?—'Brush of a bee's wing that makes time eternal.'

"'Brush of a bee's wing,'" I reiterated. "I suppose that's the reason so many lovers are stung by it."

"Hallmark of Civilization."

"The kiss is the hallmark of civilization," she continued. "Among certain savage tribes it is absolutely unknown. I believe the Japanese regard it as a decadent custom of the West which they have found it useful to adopt along with Mauser rifles and Krupp guns, but of which their philosophy takes no account.

"Nevertheless, it is an innovation which they accept with resignation rather than enthusiasm.

"You may think," concluded Mrs. Loebinger, "that a suffragette should not concern herself with the subject of kissing. But surely not the least of woman's rights is that of being made love to properly. I am a married woman, myself, and therefore can speak quite impersonally.

"My husband is a physician, himself, yet I have never yet heard him say the kiss is unsanitary. Perhaps shepherds of souls like Dr. Scudder know better. But at any rate I'm willing to take a regular physician's prescription in such matters."

TELLS HER MISERIES SO CLEVERLY THAT SHE WINS JUDGE AND JURY

PHILADELPHIA—According to Mrs. John Martin Wackwitz, he testified today in her own divorce suit, her husband is a genius in devising ways by which to make home lively. She told her story with so much humor that her miseries kept judge, jury and spectators in a continuous state of laughter. Her testimony is tabloid.

Bachelor Judge's Recipe for Happy Marriage: Mutual Love, Enough Money, Common Sense

By Nixola Greeley-Smith.

"I will think a long time before getting married," said Magistrate Moses Herrman. Every one should. But I didn't say that I would never marry. There are too many good looking young ladies in New York City for a sane man to make such a statement as that."

I had confronted the learned magistrate at the Yorkville police court with a published report that at the morning session he had vowed a vow of eternal celibacy in these words:

"I'm a bacheolr, and I have never had any idea of marrying. I am more determined now, especially since I have been a city magistrate. After hearing and seeing the domestic troubles in the courts, I have made up my mind fully that I will never marry."

It will be a relief, therefore, to the eligible women of Judge Herrman's acquaintance to know that his declaration of independent bachelo-hood was not quite so sweeping.

Believes in Marriage.

"I believe in marriage o fcourse," continued Judge Herrman whose appearance and deliberate manner suggests slightly the late ex-President Cleveland. "I believe in the combination of marriage with common sense.

"A magistrate, of course, sees only the unhappy side of the marriage relation," he continued.

"But from the number of cases of non-support that comes before me I would be justified in concluding almost that half the men get married without any idea that they will be compelled to support their wives.

"I have a hard problem to solve when a wife and two or three half-starved children stand before me asking support from a man who tells me truthfully that he can't get work."

"But is that ever true?" I asked.

"Certainly, in hundreds of cases," replied the magistrate. "When the man married he was making $8 or $10 a week, perhaps, then after a while his boss lays him off, times are hard and he can't get another job.

"What can he do? What can I do with him? I believe Judge Foster was right when he refused to send a husband, who made only $6 a week, to jail for non-support. Women should use a little common sense when they choose their husbands, and no man should get married unless he knows he can support not only a wife but a family.

"If young men and women took a little more time to think it over they might stay married longer than they do these days. Of course, not all the domestic troubles that come before me are about money.

"In other cases the man's most frequent complaint is that he has too much mother-in-law, or that he can't get his meals on time. The wife complains more often that the husband has grown tired of her.

"Almost always the causes of quarrel are trivial, and a magistrate can often bring about a reconciliation. I always attempt it whenever it seems possible.

One Queer Case.

"Down in Essex Market the other day I had a queer case of a man who complained that his wife refused to be seen on the street with him because she said he was not well dressed. The husband was a well groomed fellow, and the wife denied that she had ever made such a statement. But any pretext serves a married couple when they want to quarrel. These cases all come under the general head of incompatibility."

"Well, don't you believe incompatibility should be a cause for divorce?" I inquired.

"I do not," replied Magistrate Herrman. "The present New York State divorce law is broad enough, in my opinion. There's hardly a man and wife alive that haven't thought each other incompatible at some time or other.

"It would be a very bad thing if whenever that idea struck either of them he or she could rush off and apply for a divorce.

"As things are they have time to cool off and patch things up. A few days' reflection generally makes them realize the frivolous nature of their differences, and they forgive each other and start all over again.

"Perhaps every married couple thinks of separating at some time. Men and women look at life so differently that it takes the strongest kind of love to get along.

"Young people should realize this before marriage. They must think not only of their financial future, but of whether or not they are really mated. If they are they'll never need to come to court with their differences, and if they are not no court on earth can keep them from quarreling. The three essentials of a happy marriage are mutual love, money enough to live on and common sense, and the last is about the most important of the three."

And hearing this bit of wisdom I left the bachelor magistrate who's common sense has kept him single up to the present day.

: ENGLAND'S TALLEST ACTRESS :

One of the distinctions which Miss Julia Neilson, who, after a serious illness, has made a welcome reappearance in "Henry of Navarre," can lay claim to is that of being the tallest amongst our leading actresses. Furthermore, she is one of the most classically beautiful women on the stage. Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema considers her the ideal Greek figure, and he is fond of designing her costumes. It is now over twenty years since Miss Neilson, who, as most leaders are doubtless aware, is Mrs. Fred Terry in private life, made her first appearance on the stage, and she is one of the few famous actresses who do not consider the theatrical profession overcrowded. "My husband and myself," she said a short time ago, "are constantly on the lookout for young, fresh talent. Of course, if a girl is friendless and wholly dependent on her earnings she will find it a hard struggle to live, compared with the girl of means, but her position would be the same anywhere else. I must say I do not see why a girl, given talent and the necessary perseverance, should not be as successful on the stage as in any other profession open to women."

MISS JULIA NEILSON

Sayings of Mrs. Solomon

(Being the Confessions of the Seven Hundredth Wife.)

Translated by HELEN ROWLAND

Verily, verily, my Daughter, there are many ways of disciplining a wife and there are many wife-beaters disguised as gentlemen.

For a hod carrier aimeth his fist at his wife's pompadour; but a gentleman aimeth his SARCASM at her vanity.

Yea, a hod carrier bringeth home a club with which to punish his disobedient spouse but a gentleman goeth OUT unto his club and bangeth the door behind him.

A coal-heaver leaveth the bruises of his hob-nailed boot upon her shoulders, but a gentleman leaveth merely the bruises of veiled sneers upon her sensibilities.

MRS. JOHN LOGAN Discusses The INERTIA OF DIVORCES

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Good people all over the country regret to see excuses for divorce multiplying. There is no disproving the fact that there are cases where the withholding of divorce decrees is a very great hardship upon individuals who are unavoidably driven to the divorce courts as a last resort. Many hesitate to apply for divorce when a corespondent must be named because of the ensuing notoriety and scandal, but I think the unhappy victim of unhappy marital relations, who has been betrayed and deserted by either an unfaithful wife or husband who is likely to live indefinitely, should not hesitate to bring suit and have the matter disposed of as quickly as possible. The facts should be placed before the referee, jury or judge, as the case may be, fully and freely, but they should not be given to the public or published in the newspapers. Both parties should be furnished with correct copies of the charges and the evidence, so as to enable each to reply to the charges that either party may make. Injustice would rarely be done by such procedure, says Mrs. John A. Logan.

No divorce should be applied for or granted on trivial grounds, or that would allow the offending party to marry the person who has come between married people. Neither the wife nor the husband should be permitted to complete their own undoing by marrying the author or authoress of their domestic infelicities.

I can imagine that cigarette smoking can make such a demon of a man that he would become intolerable, and in his mentally irresponsible state would perpetrate deeds that would be unpardonable, as, unfortunately, cigarettes do destroy their devotees mentally, physically and morally; therefore, one can believe with the Ohio judge who declares that "excessive smoking of cigarettes is a sufficient cause for a wife to get a divorce." Mental and moral depravity caused by cigarette smoking is in keeping with the direful consequences of habitual drunkenness.

If the defendant in divorce proceedings fails to put in a defense against charges preferred, it seems to go without saying that there is no alternative for the judge but to grant a decree for the appellant, though one hates to think that profligates can secure their liberty by simply non-appearance when tried for infidelity and the many crimes for which persons are arraigned in divorce proceedings.

All divorce courts might hang out the sign, "Scratch your love matches here!"

From the way men pride themselves on their naughty deeds they must fancy that all George Washington's greatness lay in cutting down that cherry tree and then acting bold about it.

A man's ideal home is a place where mantelpiece, muddy feet on the sofa pillows and all his troubles on his mother-in-law.

A man used to court a girl for six years and marry her for life, but in this age of rapid transit he courts her for six hours, marries her in six days, tires of her in six weeks and divorces her in six months.

The man or woman who insists on sticking to a balky horse or a balky helpmate is going to get thrown sooner or later and to get badly shaken up in the tumble.

My dear Coralie, one way to "earn a good salary with a business firm" is to marry the head of the firm; you may not get the salary, but you will earn it.

Lovers used to serenade a girl by standing under her window and playing a mandolin, but nowadays they merely sit in front of the apartment house and call her by tooting an automobile horn. And she comes just the same.

It has been discovered that Lilith was a "demon." Well, of course—wasn't she Adam's first wife?

Reflections OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By Helen Rowland

Scandal Involves Royal House of Japan

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Tokio correspondent of the Standard relates a social scandal, indirectly involving the imperial house of Japan, which, it says, is causing a great stir in the Japanese capital. The story is that Count Todo, 23 years old, was sent to England two years ago to complete his education, and while there married a woman of Hungarian birth, the widow of an Englishman. His family, upon learning this, peremptorily ordered the count to return to Japan, and he did so, leaving his wife in England.

When he arrived home he found that his family, which shares the traditional aristocratic repugnance to mixed marriages, had in his absence started negotiations for his marriage to Princess Take, a member of a collateral branch of the imperial family. The advances were favorably received, owing to the exalted rank and good record of the Todos, and the count's divorce from his English wife was immediately resolved upon.

This was comparatively easy in Japan, and the idea was immediately carried out without consulting the wife. Count Todo, as soon as he was free, formally applied for the princess hand, and in due course the Emperor sanctioned an alliance between them. Congratulations were pouring in upon the Todos when the editor of a Tokio newspaper, hearing the facts, inconsiderately printed them.

General consternation followed. The Nobles' Disciplinary Council investigated and found that the charges made by the editor were true. The Emperor immediately revoked his consent to the betrothal of the count and princess, the former's patent of nobility was withdrawn and the star of his family is in eclipse. Various penalties have been dealt out to others concerned in the affair, including a number of officials who had been "squared." All these were compelled to resign. It is stated that the incident is without precedent in Japan, and has caused intense indignation among the loyal populace.

The Standard says it has learned that the woman who was married to Count Todo was a widow of the name of Elena Addison, who is a Hungarian by birth. She is 29 years old. She was at Toarmina in December and went to Messina after the earthquake to help the survivors.

BLOW UP POSTOFFICE SAFE; ROB STORE AND FLEE BEFORE POSSE

Sheriff and Citizens in Pursuit of Robbers Who Steal Track Tricycle and Make Their Escape.

Yeggmen had a busy time in Niles early this morning. After robbing a drug store of $300 worth of stock, they tried to blow open the postoffice safe, robbed the hall racks of the Westley Hotel and made their escape on the Southern Pacific Railroad track on a track tricycle they stole from the section house.

Early this morning federal officers, Southern Pacific detectives, men from Sheriff Barnet's office and a posse of Niles citizens, under the leadership of Constable Joe Roderick, are scouring the country.

Overlook Money

The first place robbed was the drug store of M B Sneden on First street, the principal business thoroughfare of the place. There is a small window in the store, which opens on a side street. The men broke a pane of glass and one of them squeezed through and then opened a door to admit his pal. The thieves missed money secreted by the owner, but cleaned out his show cases containing jewelry, razors and small articles.

From this place the robbers moved north a block and forced an entrance into the postoffice, which is in a new building. The men used a charge of nitroglycerine on the safe, but bungled in some way so that the explosion which followed partially wrecked the office.

Hear Explosion

A minute later they saw lights in the grocery store of Mason & Gorman, directly opposite the place. One of the clerks in the place, Jacob Snyder, had heard the report of the nitro-glycerine explosion and was dressing to find out more details. This was about 2 o'clock in the morning.

It was this clerk who first discovered the wreck of the postoffice and the one who gave the alarm. An hour later Constable Roderick and a posse found the railroad section house broken open and the track bicycle gone.

During the excitement it was also learned that the yeggman had stripped the hall racks of the Westley Hotel. Dr Charles McOwen discovered his hat and overcoat gone, and half a dozen other inmates of the hotel found their hats missing when they turned out to answer the alarms sent through the city.

Suspicion has fallen on two strangers, who were seen about the city late Sunday afternoon. One of them was a tall, dark man with black eyes, black hair and mustache, and the other small and smooth faced.

HOME COMPANY WANTS TO RUN LINES IN COUNTRY

Franchise to Be Sold to Highest Bidder

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors today a resolution was unanimously adopted calling for bids for the purchase of a telephone franchise covering all of that part of Alameda county outside of the incorporated municipalities. The bids will be advertised and will be opened at the regular weekly meeting of the board on Monday, March 29, at 10 o'clock. All bids must be sealed and filed with the County Clerk and accompanied by a bond or certified check securing 10 per cent of the total amount of the bid.

On January 30, 1908, the Home Telephone Company, through its San Francisco attorneys, introduced a resolution of a similar character. It was provided in this resolution that the company securing the franchise should pay to the county 2 per cent of the gross receipts from the business of the proposed system, after it had been in operation five years, taking as the basis of such settlements reports of the earnings of the system to be filed with the County Treasurer at the end of June of each year. The franchise was to run for fifty years, and the company securing the franchise was to furnish the county with three free telephones.

$2500 for Franchise

When the original resolution was under discussion officials of the Home Company were asked by the Supervisors what they thought such a franchise as the one provided for was worth, and it is said that they agreed, after much bickering, that the Home people would be willing to pay $2500 for it.

There it where the Board held up the resolution. The Supervisors contended that the county should not dispose of such a valuable concession unless it felt sure that bids would be more substantial in form, and the matter was held up, Supervisor Rowe contending that the county should be paid not less than $25,000 for the franchise.

Substitute Resolution

Attorney Robert N Frick of San Francisco, of counsel for the Home Telephone company, was the vehicle by which the question of a franchise was revived this morning. He was introduced by Acting Chairman Kelley and requested that the matter of his company's application for the franchise filed about a year ago, be taken up. He referred to the progress which the Home people have made since the introduction of the original resolution, on this side of the bay, in the extension of their system, citing this as ample evidence of their good faith in invading the field.

He also cited government statistics to show that everywhere throughout the country independent telephone concerns were gaining in popularity and prestige with the public as against the so-called Bell monopoly. He said that the Home company was a signal benefit to every community which it had invaded, and on the strength of this offered a substitute resolution on behalf of the company he represented for the sale of the county franchise to the highest bidder, according to law.

More Free 'Phones

The text of this resolution was practically a duplicate of the original resolution with the exception that where the original instrument provided for three free telephones for the county, twenty are provided for.

Following Frick's address Acting Chairman Kelley announced a recess and the board went into session as a committee of the whole to consider the resolution.

When it was reported favorably, all members of the board present, including the chair, voted for its adoption. They were Fost, Mullins and Bridge.

WHITES IN FEAR, SAYS JAPANESE STATESMAN

Ex-Member of Diet Declares for Harmony of Civilizations of East and West

PRAISES AMERICA FOR AID TO HIS PEOPLE

Caucasians Hate Nipponese Since Russian War, States Tetruzo Eto

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Tetruzo Eto, a former member of the Japanese Diet, addressed last night an assemblage of Japanese students, who met to discuss means of promoting harmony between the Orient and the Occident, particularly as related to the United States. This is the second meeting of its kind held here recently. Eto spoke in Japanese, which was translated into English as follows:

"The question of harmony is the most vital and fundamental one in the solution of all the differences which have caused so much agitation. In my judgment some citizens believe erroneously in the impossibility of harmonizing the two civilizations. They seem to have thought that the Caucasian was the supreme race and that all other races had the taint, as well as the tint of color.

"While the Chinese-Japanese war made the Western races regard us something different from what they had first thought, it also had a bad effect, for it made the Westerners nervous and they began to cry about 'yellow peril.' Yet the Westerners, who thought that Japan was able to beat China because of the latter's weakness, never thought that Russia would be whipped. This dream having been broken, the Westerners now begin to fear as well as despise us. This seems altogether due to their mistaken idea that the Japanese are warlike and that harmony of the two civilizations is impossible.

"I, therefore deem it most important for us to do our best to remove this misconception. Without doing this, no diplomacy can smooth the relations between the two countries of different race and faith. This is not only my belief, but that of many Americans, President Roosevelt among them.

"Our civilization came from the East as well as from the West, but the first important and valuable civilization we secured came from this country through the visit of Admiral Perry and the invaluable efforts of Townsend Harris. I need not say how much we owe this country. The history of the last fifty years tells that story.

"We must convince the Occident that we are capable of adopting an Occidental as well as an Oriental civilization. We learned our religion, literature and art from Corea and China, but today we are sending our missionaries and tutors to our former tutors."

'THERE'S ONLY ONE THING IN LIFE---HOME AND CHILDREN,' SAYS MARGARET ILLINGTON

MARGARET ILLINGTON.

E. J. BOWES. DANIEL FROHMAN.

"I'LL LIVE MY OWN LIFE," CRIES ACTRESS WHO QUITS HUSBAND AND STAGE CAREER

Does Not Deny She Will Wed Prominent Clubman After She Has Secured Her Divorce From Daniel Frohman.

BECAUSE she's weary of tinsel and glitter, heart-sick and tired like a little child who finds that the carefully built sand castle on the beach is fallible thing after all, and utterly inadequate to withstand the washing waves of time, Margaret Illington, the beautiful actress wife of Daniel Frohman, theatrical dictator, has slipped from her white shoulders the cloth o' gold and clinging silk trappings of her art, and clad all in white with her soft, brown hair, jewelless, falling in soft clustering curls around her head, stretches her slender, empty arms toward the other spoiled frightened little girl, for a real home and a baby because she's tired of a French dolly and a doll house.

Voice of Pleading

"I want a home—a home that's all my own, and a little child to call me mother," and in the pleading voice of a wistful girl one looses the memory of Margaret Illington as Marie Louise in "The Thief." One forgets that this is the woman who, with a counterfeit heart-break in her eyes, sobbed out across the footlights the story of a woman's deathless love, sin and punishment, with such a wonderful conception of the role that her fame has spread across two continents. Now she is telling her own story in a great sunny room in a San Francisco sanatorium, whither she went after leaving the home of the John R. Spring family in this city a few days ago.

She has shut herself away from all communication with her friends and announces that she is trying to regain the health which, driven by her husband's ambition, she says, was wrecked on the stage.

Consents to Divorce

From New York comes message from Daniel Frohman, giving his consent to his wife's desire for a divorce, speaking of her only in kindest words, explaining her attitude and smoothing her pathway to freedom.

"She has had a hard time. For years of life on the stage, and though she has been successful with her emotional temperament, it has not done her health any good," telegraphs the husband from Broadway, New York.

No Scandal

"I wish to say that there is no man or woman involved and no scandal of any sort connected in any way with the proceedings that are about to be instituted," he continues. "It is an amicable arrangement between Mrs. Frohman and myself."

The news of the divorce comes as a great surprise to those who knew the Frohmans intimately. Miss Illington has been living much on the bay shore coming to California several weeks ago to recover her health after a nervous breakdown while playing in "The Thief", but no one here suspected the truth.

"I am leaving my husband because he counts my art before me as a woman," explains the wife. "If a girl loves the stage if she's all ambition and eagerness for it, then she gets her competition as she goes along. It has not been so with me. I have known that there was no happiness in it for me since I first began nine years ago.

Hated the Stage

"I've hated it. I've loathed and abhorred and I've collapsed, and I've fainted and it was all nothing beside the pride that my husband felt in my career. He wouldn't realize that my nerves and my health were giving way, that I wanted warm, human ties—that I was sick of the theater.

"Now," and her tone was definite, "things have reached a pass when I must have my own life, must break the bonds that are slowly crushing the heart out of me and be free. I have a divorce, but the life I have been forced to lead has been against my every natural instinct.

"I never went down to my dressing room without wishing that I had finished my last engagement, and over and over, to Mr. Frohman, over and over, to let me stop. But he won't.

"I used to tell him that I was wretched, that there was no pleasure in my work, and that I only threw myself into it because that's my nature."

Again to Wed

To other with the announcement of Miss Illington's determination to seek a separation from her husband, came the sensational report that when the interlocutory decree was granted she would marry E. J. Bowes, wealthy clubman and specialist of San Francisco. Both Bowes and the actress admit that this will be the probable outcome though both refuse to discuss the matter at any length until Mrs. Frohman has obtained her divorce.

"Mr. Bowes is a warm friend—one of my best," declares the actress, "and after all of the excitement of the divorce is over, I—yes, I hope to be married. That is all I can say."

Best of Friends

"I have known Miss Illington for some time," says Edward J. Bowes. "I first met her in New York. I have known her people for many years. We have always been the best of friends. I have also known Mr. Frohman for several years. I wish to repeat that there is no ill feeling between Mr. Frohman and his wife, and that absolutely no changes will be made in the case. It is simply a case of incompatability.

"I cannot say when the divorce complaint will be filed. Miss Illington must remain in the sanitarium until the doctors give her permission to leave.

"I wish to deny the statement which was published to the effect that when Miss Illington was here comment was made because an actor was paying her assiduous attention. This is absolutely without foundation. There is no truth in it.

"It would not be proper for me," continued Bowes, "to say that I intend to marry Miss Illington when she gets her divorce. I can only repeat what I have said before, that the future will determine our plans.

"Miss Illington for a long time has been tired of the stage, and has expressed a desire to withdraw the theatrical profession. It has been her husband's ambition to have her remain in it. This has been his one desire. She, being a woman with domestic ideas, found that the life on the stage was not her life, and this determined her finally to take the step she is now taking."

Statements Agree

Mrs. Frohman's statement agrees with Bowes'.

"I have known all along that only a home could make me happy. I am born for domesticity. I assure you that when I am free again my stage career—for the present and for all the future—is over, over, over. I'll never miss it, nor want it, nor long for it—not for an instant."

"And you don't think that you'll ever grow equally weary of directing maids and ordering dinners? Won't you ever long for the gleam of the calcium and the applause of a packed house?"

Longs for Home

"Never, I am sure. I have longed all my life for home. I was only a schoolgirl when I was taken right out in midterm, to help out some family financial difficulties. Well, I made my little hit, and Mr. Frohman picked me out for promotion and told me that there was a future ahead of me. And then came my marriage to him—not because he was a manager, and a big man, but because I loved him, and wanted to have my own home, and stay in it, and forget that I'd ever been an actress!"

"But, being a man, and a great man, he didn't understand?"

"Oh, yes, he did, at first. But then after a while he began to talk stage again, and I consented just because he was so set on it. There is nothing in the world for Mr. Frohman but the stage—nothing else counts. And after a while my health failed, and I would faint between the acts, and be carried home unconscious over and over again.

Got to Dreaming

"I got to dreading it—hating it. You see, I never got any pleasure out of my work, and I had to try to crowd the things I really loved—flowers, and books, and quiet hours in my own home—into my free time. And that made my life too full.

"No woman can be forced to live a life like that, and I wouldn't bear it any longer. Mr. Frohman and I had our first real trouble last fall. I wouldn't go back to the stage, after my illness—he would not consent to any other arrangement. I respect Mr. Frohman, I see his point of view, but I'm not able to agree with him. Only a year ago I was unconscious for three hours after one of my matinee and evening performances, and—yet the next day—the very next day—I must go on. I must take that exacting and exhausting part, and it was then that I rebelled, first last and for all time.

"There is only one thing in this life," going back to the point of beginning, "and that's a big man's name and protection and home."

Edward J Bowes is stopping at the Hotel Normandie, at Sutter and Gough streets, San Francisco, only a few blocks from the hospital, where he visits every day.

MARGARET ILLINGTON DECLARES:

"I crave domesticity, home life and children. I want to darn socks."

"Stage success did not satisfy me. It was burning the candle at both ends."

"When I found Mr. Frohman would keep me on the stage my love died."

"I would love to tell you I will marry Mr. Bowes, but I cannot say that."

NOTED SINGER IN CLASSIC PROGRAM

MME. LANGENDORFF, The Great Contralto.

Next Friday afternoon at Ye Liberty Playhouse Managers Bishop and Greenbaum will introduce to our music lovers Mme. Frieda Langendorff, a famous contralto, who has met with the greatest success in Dresden Prague, Vienna and Bayreuth, as well as at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Her program will be a magnificent one and she will have the assistance of Mme. Flora Karp Hollbern, a Viennese pianist, who is a pupil of Max Pauer, the famous master of Stuttgart. Mme. Hollbron's solos will be quite different from the usual, as the "Wanderer Fantasia" of Schubert and Chopin's "Variations Op. 12" have never before been played in Oakland.

Filipino Band

The biggest band that ever visited here, the second of the only two great military musical organizations supported by the United States government, the other being the Marine Band of Washington, and one of the very finest bands and orchestras in the world, is the band of the Philippine Constabulary corps, which will play at Ye Liberty next Tuesday afternoon en route to Washington, where it is to be the band of honor at the inaugural ceremonies of its founder, William H. Taft, our next president.

This band numbers eighty-five Filipino musicians, every one a trained musician, and many being able to play a dozen different instruments. Within the band is a complete symphony orchestra of sixty-two, which is to play at the great ball at the White House on the night of March 4.

Daniel Frohman Says That Divorce Is Certain

159 West Seventy-ninth Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Frohman have decided upon a separation with a view to an ultimate divorce. This rumor, which came from San Francisco yesterday, was confirmed by Mr. Frohman:

Mrs. Frohman and I agreed to this step recently. She desires to take up her residence permanently in California, where the climate agrees with her and where she has always been well, even when acting.

She has retired permanently from the profession and will remove with her parents to the Pacific Coast, where their relatives reside, and will live with them.

There is no scandal involved in this disagreement—no man or woman is the cause of it. In fact, the arrangement is far more amicable than hostile on each part. The decision was arrived at recently.

Mrs. Frohman, though in good physical health, is at present resting at a health resort in California, where after a few weeks' quiet she will be entirely restored. She came to New York from California a few weeks ago, apparently entirely recovered from her breakdown in "The Thief," but the Eastern climate did not agree with her.

She finds solace and health in the air of the Pacific slope, and there she has decided to live for the future. We have been married nearly six years.

TIME FOR HAVING STATE FAIR SET

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—The State Fair this year will open on August 28, and close on September 4, according to the dates set today by the State Agricultural Society. The new pavilion will be completed by that time and the entire fair will be held at the race track.

H. A. Jastro of Bakersfield was elected president to succeed Senator Benjamin F. Rush of Suisun, who has been President for the past six years.

In accepting the office, Jastro declared that he would make the fair an event to educate the farmer and would not tolerate gambling or drinking on the grounds.

Frank H. Thurk of San Francisco was made vice-president, L. A. Filcher, secretary; L. R. Miller, assistant secretary, California National Bank, treasurer. C. W. Paine will be superintendent of the race track and live stock department, while Fred L. Martin will have charge of the buildings and exhibits.

Off Today on Special Two Weeks' Run for Extra Prizes; Wonderful Opportunity for Workers

EXTRA PRIZES

This extra prize offer covers the period between Monday, February 15th, at 8 a. m. and Saturday, February 27th, at 10 p. m., and applies to all paid-in-advance subscriptions. All contestants entered prior to Saturday, February 13th, 12 m., are eligible.

SPECIAL PRIZE.

Special prize to candidate in any class securing largest amount of money on paid in advance subscriptions, cash $25.00

CLASS PRIZES.

Most popular young lady, merchandise order	20 00
Most popular man in Alameda county, merchandise order	20 00
Most popular union man, merchandise order	10 00
Most popular and successful man in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, outside of Oakland, Alameda or Berkeley, merchandise order	10.00
Most popular member of police department, merchandise order	10.00
Most popular boy, choice camera, shotgun or watch, value	10.00
Most popular woman, merchandise order	10.00
Most popular railway employe, merchandise order .	10 00
Most popular letter carrier, merchandise order	10.00
Most popular member of fire department merchandise order	10.00

Today the special prize offer begins, and today the busy contestants begin to get busier. Early this morning a number of them were down at THE TRIBUNE office to tell the Contest Department that they were out in earnest after the extra prizes and to ask a few questions about their subscriptions.

Get Subscriptions in Early

The advice given to all inquirers was that the subscriptions might be handed in at any time before February 27. It is wise to get them in right away. They will count just as much toward the special prize as if you hold them back, and it will be much easier for the business office to give you prompt attention early in the fortnight. Of course, you are bound to have some subscriptions to hand in at the last minute, but those that you get earlier should be put in right away. The vote certificates given for them may be held by the candidate as long as he or she desires.

Wonderful Opportunity

Candidates, don't overlook this added opportunity to win desirable prizes. You are going to work for subscriptions at some time during the contest, and now, while there is a special offer on for two weeks, you should put in your best efforts. There is $25 in cash if you turn in the largest amount in subscriptions between now and February 27, or if you beat every one in your own particular class there is a plump merchandise order to reward you. A merchandise order would help out quite a little this spring, wouldn't it?

"How Doth the Little Busy Bee"

There are innumerable ways in which contestants may work to take advantage of this offer. The person who has plenty of time does not need advice, for he or she will make personal calls and enlist the interest of friends. But the candidate who is employed during the day has to work out a system. Don't forget that the telephone is a good friend. Use it to call up people who have promised you subscriptions, and use it to find out when your friends will be at home, so that you can call upon them in the evenings. Get those who are interested in your success to work for you among their friends and turn over the subscriptions to you. Don't waste the noon hour, but see some business acquaintance and remind him that you would like his renewal for six months or a year. Also ask him if he hasn't a friend who does not take THE TRIBUNE; probably he knows some such foolish person

A Good Business Proposition

Never forget for a moment that what you are offering to subscribers is a bona fide business proposition. You are not asking a personal favor, but are giving them full value received for their money, as THE TRIBUNE is worth every cent of the subscription price, and more. Don't hesitate to ask people to subscribe and don't stop working if the first person refuses you. If your business proposition is a good one there are plenty of people who want it, so go ahead with perfect confidence in your own success. Faint heart ne'er won an automobile.

Postage Important

There is great importance in the little postage stamp, even in a contest. Many people are sending in coupons by mail with insufficient postage on them. It is hardly fair to ask THE TRIBUNE to pay all of this excess postage, and in time the best worms will turn. Weigh your letters before mailing them, or some day you may wonder what happened to a bunch of votes you sent in, and you will learn that it lay in the postoffice until the votes were worthless, just because you were careless.

Classified Ads Help

An unusually liberal feature of this contest is the fact that votes are being issued with classified advertising. Five votes will be given for each five cents' worth up to $1 and from then on an ascending scale as follows:

150 votes for	1.50
225 votes for	2.00
300 votes for	2.50
400 votes for	3.00

THE TRIBUNE has also issued little books containing $3.00 worth of classified advertising coupons, which are for sale at the office for $2.50. Each book entitles the purchaser to 300 votes in the contest, besides giving him $3.00 worth of advertising for $2.50.

A receipt book with which to secure subscriptions will be given each candidate upon application to THE TRIBUNE. Votes will be allowed on subscriptions secured anywhere in the United States or Mexico.

TO DISINFECT ALL LODGERS IN CITY

New York Opens Municipal Hotel to Accommodate 900 Men and 100 Women

NEW YORK, Feb 15. — Two important institutions for the aid of the needy will be opened in this city this week. The six-story municipal lodging house is open today for the first time in East Twenty-fifth street and there will be a special house warming there, to which Mayor McClellan has been invited, between 4 and 6 o'clock this afternoon. The lodging house will accommodate 1000 in all 900 men and 100 women.

It is provided with the largest disinfecting plant in the world in which the clothes, hats, shoes and other apparel of guests who wander in will be treated with formeldehyde gas to prevent the spread of disease. The institution, including building and equipment, cost approximately $435,000, an expense which is borne by the city.

Applicants for lodging must pass a medical examination and to prevent chronic idleness they can sleep there only three nights in each month.

The other institution is a hotel for working girls, financed by the Federation of Women's Clubs. Only girls who earn less than seven dollars a week may find shelter in the house. A weekly rate of $3.50 will be charged. The hotel will be thrown open some time this week and notices to attract working girls who arrive in the city will be posted in the railroad stations and elsewhere.

BLOODHOUNDS ON ROBBERS' TRAIL

Bank and Buildings Wrecked by Explosion and Thieves Escape With $1140

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 15.—The First State Bank of Oktaha, sixteen miles south of this city, was robbed early today and the Sheriff and a number of deputies with bloodhounds have started for the scene. The bank was blown at 2 o'clock. The robbers secured $1140. The bank building was wrecked by the explosion.

Sheriff Ramsey's bloodhounds traced the robbers to the outskirts of the town, where the trail was lost. It is believed that the robbers are the same men who have recently been operating in Southern Kansas.

MANY HERE HAD IT FILLED

No Sufferer of Kidney Trouble or Rheumatism Should Leave It Untried.

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy supplied the ingredients for the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to directions. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

FIND NO TRACE OF MAN WHO LEAPED INTO BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Although the police patrol boat in charge of Officer Leroux searched around the Key Route ferry slip and in and about the other piers adjacent to it, no trace was found of the unknown man who jumped into the bay at 7:30 o'clock last night. The gate tender, C. B. Appleton, believes that the man purposely leaped from the apron and describes him as about medium height, weighing about 140 pounds, dressed in a gray suit, and with a light hat.

FAMOUS MODELS AT THE ORPHEUM

Strong Bill of New Features Attract More Record-Breaking Crowds

Seldom's Venus, a European novelty which includes the reproduction of famous pieces of statuary, was the principal new feature of the Oakland Orpheum program which went on for the first time yesterday afternoon. The act includes a series of living pictures arranged by an artist in this particular line of stage work. The models, both male and female, used in the pictures, are perfect as regards classic proportions and have been trained in the studios of Paris to depict the characters which they represent on the stage.

College Girls

Johnny McVeigh and his college girls in a delightful musical comedy sketch called "An Incident in a Dormitory," were a new feature. McVeigh is a rollicking comedian and his pretty college girls provide an unusual setting for the antics in which he indulges. Bright bits of music, dialogue and dancing are found in the act.

Richard Crolius with his company appear in a racetrack sketch called "Shorty." Crolius was the original Biff in "Peaches" and is a character actor of exceptional ability.

Other Features

Byron and Langdon introduce a humorous absurdity called "The Dude Detective." Byron has been very successful in England and the East with his detective travesty, and scored a solid hit yesterday.

BRYAN MAIN ORATOR AT UNVEILING OF PORTRAIT

DES MOINES, Feb. 15.—With William J. Bryan as the principal orator and the legislature as an audience, an unique event took place at the State House today in the unveiling of a portrait of General James B. Weaver of Colfax. The portrait is the gift of admiring friends to the State historical department, and the occasion is the advance of attack of the Second Iowa regiment upon Fort Donelson, of which General Weaver was a member. Bryan spoke for an hour upon the patriotism of General Weaver, with whom he had been associated for several years. General Weaver was present as the guest of honor of the Iowa legislature.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF CATARRH

Catarrh is a blood disease which causes a general inflammation of the inner linings or mucous membranes of the body. The diseasing of these delicate surfaces and tissues produces all the well known symptoms of the trouble, such as ringing noises in the head and ears, tight, stuffy feeling in the nose, pains above the eyes, irritation of the throat, sometimes slight fever, and a general feeling of weakness and ill health. Even the lungs become affected by the continual passage of impure blood through them, and there is danger of consumption if the disease is allowed to remain in the system. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it purifies the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter, making this vital fluid pure, rich and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and health restored. S. S. S. rids the system of catarrh by attacking the trouble at its head and entirely removing the cause from the blood, thus making a permanent and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely from health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and for this reason is an especially safe and desirable medicine. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

BOXING — WEST OAKLAND SHOW WEDNESDAY EVENING

ATHLETICS — MILLER CHALLENGES CONNOLLY IN MARATHON

RACING — NEWS IN TURF CIRCLES GATHERED BY EXPERTS

SULLIVAN MAY PROVE GREAT SURPRISE AT WEST OAKLAND

By EDDIE SMITH.

THE West Oakland Athletic Club members are very greatly enthused over the prospects of their matchmaker, Tommy Simpson, springing a championship candidate in the middleweight ranks on the boxing fans. Montana Jack Sullivan, who is to meet Frank (Brick) Burgess next Wednesday night, is the cause of the commotion, for to say that he has made a hit with those who have seen him work would be putting it mildly.

Sullivan, according to reports, is a clever boxer, with the short-arm jolts such as the fighters of old used to have, and the story is told that he puts many of the boys down with them during his daily boxing stunts. Molly McDonald is managing and training the fighter from the North, and was the cause of his coming here from Los Angeles.

McDonald says that all he asks for is that Sullivan be matched with the winner of the Neil-Whitney contest that is to come off Friday night, and that the winner of that contest be matched with Billy Papke or Hugo Kelly.

"We are not worrying about this match," says McDonald. "What we are looking forward to is a chance with Kelly and Papke, and later with Ketchel. I believe Sullivan will make good, for I had an excellent chance to try him out, and he was all there. I believe he will be one of the best in the country in a short time."

Burgess Not Easy

We have not seen Sullivan work as yet, but we do know this, that to beat this fellow Burgess he will have to be in good condition and also be able to hit pretty hard. The red-headed fighter from South San Francisco is a slugger of no mean ability, and when he slams one of those wallops to the head or body of an opponent there is generally something doing. Fact of the matter is, Burgess may prove better than he has ever shown here, for the only time he was ever beaten in Oakland was one night he appeared at the Reliance Club show in his first contest; absolutely unfit, and was beaten by Jim Hayward.

The remainder of the card consists of battles between Antone LeGrave vs. Willie Purtell, Kid Burns vs. Willie O'Neil, Tommy McCarthy vs. Kid Molen and Freddie Couture vs. Tony Earl. This set of six-round contests, with a four-round ring-warmer, certainly looks like a great card for the evening, and no doubt the gymnasium will be well filled when the first pair step into the ring. George Brown will act as referee.

Sayers Very Clever

Yesterday was visiting day for the fans of the boxing world, and the camps of the fighters to appear at the Mission Club's first boxing night next Friday evening were well filled with visitors. Maurice Sayers, who is the only real stranger of the lot, was of course the center of attraction, and at his camp there were gathered over one hundred fans.

We have heard from time to time of the great cleverness of the Milwaukee fighter, and stories from Los Angeles led us to believe that perhaps the writers there were touting the beer drinker a little too strongly. Yesterday, however, Sayers stepped about and made a show of his sparring partners with ease and indifference as if he was just playing a bit.

Sayers has a combination of the side-stepping, ducking and blocking style that leads many to believe he will prove very puzzling to Mr. Johnnie Murphy. Sayers has already lost to Murphy in a 25-round contest, and Murphy feels that he will repeat the dose. Strange to say, Sayers has not made any excuses for his showing with Murphy in Los Angeles. He simply allows the fans to think what they will, but his confidence has led many to feel that the visitor has something up his sleeve.

Al Nell is training at the clubrooms of the Mission Athletic Club and is reported in the very best condition, while Whitney is always in condition. No matter what else might be said of the colored fighter, he has never yet entered the ring in anything but good condition.

Sam Nelson and Otto Fritch, who will meet in the preliminary, are grinding away at their work and the latest reports are that they have shown good condition and that Fritch is boxing a little better than ever before.

Sullivan Goes North

Gene Sullivan, the young Montana fighter who is to meet Harry Lombard at Marysville, left for Chico yesterday, where he will put the finishing touches to his training, which he started at the West Oakland Club with his brother Jack.

The members of the west end organization who have seen him at work pronounce him the real thing as a boxer, and a pool is to be made up to send north to bet on his chances in the Washington's birthday scrap.

Gene is said to be one of those thin, elongated, wiry sort of chaps who fool you as to strength and lasting power. Gene is said to have boxed ten rounds with his middleweight brother at the West Oakland Club and more than held his own in the mixing that was none too gentle.

Sullivan, before leaving for the north, told the boys about the clubrooms to be sure and have a bet on his chances, for he felt sure that he would come home with the long end of the purse. Molly McDonald will leave for Marysville immediately after the West Oakland scraps to join his fighter.

Billiard Race Close

Harris won from Boice Friday evening at the Oakland Billiard Parlor in a close contest. Boice gained and showed a spirit of confidence toward the finish and nearly caught Harris napping, but the latter seemed able to get them when closely pressed and won by a score of 150 to 92. The afternoon contest, Lillard 150 vs. Connors 100, attracted many spectators. Another of those nerve-racking exhibitions resulted, and Connors brought home his first victory, which was a very popular one with the crowd, as the defeat of Lillard puts all the scratch men on an even basis with one game lost, and the situation is made very acute. The tourney has developed into a red-hot affair, and, with the finals close at hand, it is a certainty that there will be some great games pulled off, especially when the scratch men meet. The score was: Connors, 155; Lillard, 100. Referee, Lehner.

Standing of the players:

Players—	Won.	Lost.
Lillard	3	1
Lehner	3	1
Harris	2	1
Squire	2	1
Peset	2	1
Wagoe	2	1
Lody	1	2
Lorell	1	2
Boice	1	3
Connors	1	4

Rovers Beat Olympic

In the preliminary soccer games played yesterday, the Albion Rovers had an easy time winning from the Olympics at the Presidio grounds by the score of 10 goals to 1. Pike (5), Walters (3) and Balmain (2) made the goals for the Maroons, while Clarkson scored the consolation point for the club.

The teams were: Olympics—Minto, M. Askham and Kay; D. Pomeroy, Clarkson and Goff, C. Pomeroy, Sharpe, Walfisch, Phillips and Trowbridge. Albion Rovers—Marshall, Milne and Selkirk; Anderson, Mizen and McKinon; Pike, Aitken, Balmain, McLaughlin and Walters.

In the league tourney, the Builders and Burns team met at San Mateo and, after amateur playing on the part of both teams, the game resulted in a draw, both sides scoring once apiece.

Ball Tossers Arrive

A wireless message was received by THE TRIBUNE this morning from "Brick" Devereaux, one of the star players of the Reach All American baseball team, which is just returning home from Honolulu after a successful season in Japan, Philippines and Hawaiian islands, to the following effect: Tenyo Maru (nowhere) to TRIBUNE: Will arrive at 4:32:39. Regards to the boys.—Devereaux."

Manager McCreedie has signed Charles Armbruster, catcher and outfielder, from the Chicago White Sox. He was farmed out last year to Toledo in the American Association, batted .272, fielded .956, and stole 37 bases, coming second. He hit out 37 two-baggers, five triples and one home run.

The Western Baseball League has adopted a schedule for the season. There will be 154 games, and the season will open April 29 and close September 28.

California will go to Los Angeles Friday to play the St. Vincent team two games.

"To my way of thinking," says old Jimmy Ryan, "there have been but four men who played second base. That is four men who played it to the very limit of all its possibilities, and those four are Pfeffer, Dunlap, McPhee and Evers."

President M. Stanley Robison of the St. Louis Cardinals is back in town. "Hank" O'Day tipped me off on Ellis, the Los Angeles outfielder, whom we secured from Cincinnati," states Robison. "O'Day stated that Ellis was a sure-enough 'find,' and told me to get him if I got the chance. Cincinnati asked for waivers on him, desiring to use him in a trade for another scout youngster, a player named Oakes. Breesman wanted Ellis, so I refused to waive."

Philadelphia will have the unique distinction of being the only city in the big league where baseball patrons will be supplied with score cards free of charge. The management of the Athletics made the definite announcement that when half-million-dollar Shibe Park was opened to the public in April the practice of charging patrons for cards would be abolished. The news will be appreciated by fans, who always maintained that baseball owners should supply score cards just the same as purveyors of programs. Last year the Phillies charged 5 cents for cards, while the Athletics sold tickets at the nominal sum of 1 cent. At the Polo Grounds in New York the price is 10 cents. The chances are that the free score card policy of the Athletics will be adopted by owners in other cities on the circuit.

Pitcher Frank Smith of the Chicago Americans says he is not joking when he offers to fight Jack Johnson. "I am pretty good with the gloves," says Smith, "and even if I should happen to lose I could make enough out of the fight to pay me for the time I devoted to training."

No more individual souvenirs are to be given to members of the team who win the world's championship series, instead the National Commission has decided to give the club owner a piece of costly plate.

Frank Bowerman and Roger Bresnahan recently had a talk over a possible trade between Boston and St. Louis, in the course of which Bowerman said: "Make men love to work for you. Get them to a fighting pitch all the time. Keep them on their toes and let them know they are playing to win more than playing for their salary, and they'll play pennant ball. It hasn't failed in Hugo Jennings' case, and that New York morality won the National League pennant last year is proof that it hasn't failed in the case of John McGraw."

Arthur Schaffer of Santa Clara college, the phenomenal shortstop whose work has been the talk of the San Jose fans, has been signed by Muggsy McGraw of the New York Giants. Schaffer has the earmarks of being equally as sensational a player as Hal Chase, who hails from the same institution. He can run a 100 yards in 10 2-5 seconds and run 100 yards of ground at short. He is only 19 years of age and resides in Los Angeles, where his father is prominent in the banking world.

Connie Mack, Charley Graham and Happy Hogan have all been after Schaffer, but McGraw beat them to it.

Krause, the former star twirler of the St. Mary's Phoenix team, is a permanent fixture on the athletic squad and will be on hand March 8 to commence training in the south.

"A Philadelphia clergyman who was a great lover of baseball forgot himself once and said: 'Here ends the first inning; let us pray.'"

"A game of baseball is like a buckwheat cake—a great deal depends on the batter."

"Baseball is of greater antiquity than is generally supposed. It was played in the ark when the dove was put out on the fly." Abraham also pitched in the wilderness."

Comiskey of Chicago's Sox and Manager McAleer of the St. Louis Browns conferred over players yesterday and they may pull off a big deal before the season opens. McAleer wants "Figgs" Donohue and Frank Smith.

Ellsworth Freeman, first baseman of the Washington league team, has arrived at Willows with his wife, where he will coach the high school team during his stay there. Freeman has made a big hit with the Eastern fans and achieved a national reputation as a player.

President Wm. J. Shettsline of the Phillies is in favor of abolishing the spitball in 1910. One of the greatest inventive geniuses in baseball was little Dick Pierce. He is the author of the punt.

Miller Accepts Defi

The challenge issued by Cornelius Connolly of the Irish-American Athletic Club to run the winner of the Coliseum Marathon or any other speed burner in the United States has been accepted by George Miller, the Los Angeles "mystery," who won the honors last Wednesday. Miller, through his manager, T. Clarence McGrath, signifies his willingness to meet Connolly on any terms, for a side bet if wished the winner also to get 50 per cent of the gross gate receipts if the contest is held at the Coliseum. Miller does not object if there are more than two contestants. King and Stanley may be the others who might participate.

Connolly will be given five days within which to make arrangements for a match. If no answer is made within that period Miller will seek a race from other runners.

Sailors Plan Regatta

VALLEJO, Feb. 15.—The crews of the various naval vessels now at Mare Island are planning for a grand regatta on Washington's Birthday.

The Vallejo Yacht Club is planning to install a gymnasium for its members. The idea is receiving much encouragement from the young members of the club who take an interest in athletics.

The Vallejo High track team will meet the Lowell High team of San Francisco in a track meet here early in March.

Kid Joseph, a boxer of Vallejo, has challenged Jimmy Walsh, ex-bantamweight champion of the United States, to meet him in a ten-round battle in Sacramento next month. Joseph has fought a draw with Jimmy Reagan, present holder of the title.

P. A. A. Basketball

TONIGHT'S BASKET-BALL GAMES.

120 pounds, 7 p. m.—Columbia Park vs. Wienlawskis.

140 pounds, 9 p. m.—Pioneers vs. South Park Club.

Unlimited, 10 p. m.—St. Mary's College vs. Rivals.

The P. A. A. basket-ball tournament for the State championship begins this evening in the San Francisco Auditorium at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the Independents from St. Mary's College will play the Metropolitan Business College five at 130 pounds. The collegians will also figure in the final contest of the evening when they oppose the Rivals.

Games have been scheduled for every day this week, with the exception of Thursday, commencing at 4:30 p. m. in addition to the contests in the evening.

Native Sons Victors

The Native Sons' team, No. 2, of Alameda, won three straight games from the Alameda Wheelmen in the bowling match held last night in the Zingg alley. This gives the Native Sons' team No. 2 ten games won out of twelve played so far in the tournament.

The following is the score of the game played last night.

NATIVE SONS' TEAM NO. 2—

	First game.	Second game	Third game.
Sheramsky	71	81	114

KANGAROOS WIN.

The Kangaroos basketball Team of the Central Young Men's Christian Association defeated the Sherman Evening High School Saturday night by a score of 20 to 8. The Kangaroos have open dates and are looking for games with 130-pound teams. Address C. N. Dray, manager, 1220 Geary street, San Francisco.

Wallabies Go North

The stay of the Wallaby team in California terminates tonight when the fifteen take the train for Vancouver to play the Britishers. The cordiality and spirit of friendliness that has been shown the Australians during their visit here has been one source of gratification to the Antipodeans and they leave here with much regret. Manager McMahon has only words of praise for the teams against which his players were pitted and predicts that within five years California will be able to produce a Rugby team that will be able to compete against the fastest in the world.

The Wallabies will leave Vancouver on the steamer Moana February 26 for Australia. They will play the Vancouver Union February 20 and Victoria February 24.

Collegians Win Game

The benefit game for Jack McCormick played yesterday afternoon at the St. Mary's grounds between the Phoenix team and the All-Stars resulted in a victory for the collegians. They won by a score of 2 to 0. Score:

Phoenix	2	5	1
All Stars	0	2	1

Batteries—Phoenix, Wilcox and Simpson; All Stars, Coffin, Burke and Burns. Umpire—Jack Goyheneix. Scorer—Thompson. Time of game—1 hour and 40 minutes.

Two other games on the campus resulted as follows: Victors 2, Greens 2. Collisions 3, Yosemites 2.

To Fight Montana Kid

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—The California Athletic Club under George Vice will stage Joe Reilly and Montana Kid in a twenty-round bout Wednesday night. Young Dempsey of Oakland and Kid Scotty of Sacramento, Young Shannon of Seattle and Jockey Malloy of Sacramento fight the preliminaries.

The Buffalo Club will sign Mantell with Kid Williams or some other middleweight next month.

Athlete Lowers Time

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—At the Columbia University's indoor relay athletic carnival at the Madison Square Garden yesterday George V. Bonlag of the Irish-American Athletic Club lowered Mike Driscoll's world's two-mile record of 9:28 2-5 by 4-5 of a second.

Another record was in a mile run for the Martinique cup, won by H. L. Truce. New York Athletic Club, in 4:19 4-5.

New Skating Records

ST. PAUL, Feb. 15.—Three professional world's skating records for an indoor track were broken. In the half-mile event Baptie lowered his own world's record of 1:18 1-5, making the distance in 1:17 1-3. Nilsson made the mile in 2:39 2-5, and also lowered the two-mile record, going against time, covering the distance in 5:45 2-5.

University Brevities

February 27—Freshmen vs. St. Mary's St. Mary's oval.

GREAT THOROUGHBREDS WILL SPORT SILK IN DERBY

By LEE DEMIER.

THill lovers of the thoroughbred who will journey to Williams Park on Washington's Birthd will witness the greatest aggregation of horseflesh that ever lined up in a Derby in this glorious State of Califor ia. The way things are shaping themves the Derby is likely to furnish as thrilling a struggle as did the Burns Hano.

In this year's Derby the leading candidates are Sam Hildreth's Fitzherbert and Fred Forsythe's high Private. Jockey Eddie Dugan, American's greatest light-weight, will have the boot up on Fitzherbert and Jockey Lee, the colored archer will have the mount on High Private. A struggle for supremacy between these two pigskin artists may be looked for.

The three-year-olds will meet on an equal ground, Fitzherbert to carry 112 pounds and High Private being a gelding, 110. High Private won the Lusak and Palace Hotel handicaps, but the conditions of the debentures of a stake for three-year-olds in 1909 to carry five pounds extra."

Fitzherbert, Sam Hildreth's grand youngster, has not appeared at Williams' Park since November, when he won the Oakland Handicap. The race stamps him as being a colt of high class. He was only a two-year-old at the time and gave away chunks of weight to every horse in the race, including Billy Cahill's speed marvel, Malley Corbett, and Jeanne d'Arc.

Ed Alvey's Friend Hay.
W. E. Applegate's Sepronium.
H. R. Brandt's Harrin.
William Cahill's Captain John.
J. M. Crane's Rosamo.
F. W. Doss' Workbox.
F. A. Forsythe's Bon Homme.
S. C. Hildreth's Light House.
J. A. Jones' Madman.
J. D. Millin's Ocean Queen.
Napa Stock Farm's Cytto.
J. W. Paulsen's Palo Alto.
Barney Schreiber's Eleror William.
Barney Schreiber's Dr Holzberg.
J. J. Walsh's Lee Rose.
T. H. Williams' Rubia Grande.

Winning Owners

F. A. Forsythe is only 2200 behind S. C. Hildreth for first place in the list of winning owners. Both are fast approaching the $25,000 mark.

The principal winners are:

S. C. Hildreth	$24,325
F. A. Forsythe	22,539
T. H. Williams	14,184
H. G. Bedwell	13,275
E. Schreiber	8,891
W. Cahill & Co.	8,391
C. R. Billson	7,258
Keene Bros.	6,848
P. Dunne	6,304
P. Jones	5,452
L. L. Thomas	5,300

Winning Jockeys

One winner on an average a day was Jockey Gilbert's record in week at Williams' park, who won the honors in captur the most points. Butler and Mentry each put four across the wire first. The records of the jockeys is as follows: Gilbert, 6; J. Butler, 4, Mentry, 4; J. Lee, 3; Taplin, 3; Seoville, 3; Derrick, 2; McIntyre, 2. Notter, 2. Archibald, 1. E. Clark, 1; Keogh, 1; McCarthy, 1. C. Ross, 1; E. Sullivan, 1, Upton, 1.

Crisp Turf Talk

News comes from Baltimore that the dates of the Pimlico spring meeting will be from April 24th up to and including May 12th. The spring and autumn meetings will aggregate thirty days, or four days longer than in other years. This year the dates have been allotted according to law, and is not believed that there will be any opposition on the part of the Jockey Club of New York, particularly the Hennings course which has not already mapped out a program.

Reports from Chicago say that Edward Corrigan, who won and lost many battles in the racing world, wants to still be counted as among those interested in the racing game. The master of Hawthorne says the sale of his stock farm near Lexington, Ky., will cause his retirement from the sport. Corrigan says he wanted a little rest, and the only way to get it was to "keep still and let the other fellows do the working a bit."

Notter told a number of his friends that he was not going to ride any more. That was before he was persuaded to remain over a week longer before going abroad. He accepted the mount on Tommy Griffin's Inflection on which the owner and Charley Ellison and many others in the know rested one grand clean-up. The next day on account of C. Miller taking suddenly sick, he consented to ride Graphite and Tom Shaw.

"Snalling" Joe Notter did his fine of $100, which the powers of the new California Jockey Club imposed upon him in a race in which the noted rider had the mount on Tom Shaw, for fouling Joe Rose. It was proper for the stewards to fine the jockey for fouling, but to make

Manager Charles H. Berryman of Elmendorf Farm has gone to Canada to buy sheep to range on some of the land that Mr. Haggin formerly devoted to the production of thoroughbreds. The Elmendorf stud is gradually being weeded down to the best.

• • •

Jockey Taplin, who had the mount on Silver Stocking, lodged a claim of foul against Jockey Gilbert, who had the leg up on May Amelia. The judges did not see it that way.

• • •

Ed Kelly, one of the fastest money-takers in the business, is grabbing the coin for the Missouri Club. Lee Campbell (Little Eva) is the man behind the gun.

• • •

The twenty-five bookmakers that made the weight Saturday were stung, and stung good, on the win of Smiley Corbett. Just think of it! They layed 8 to 1 on a sure thing.

• • •

Owner and Trainer Billy Cahill made a nice clean-up on the win of Smiley Corbett. He was willing to take 6 to 5. The pencilers hunched his money several points.

• • •

Harry Stover said Saturday that the bill passed by both houses in the Montana Legislature, limiting racing to fourteen days in each county, would not hold water.

• • •

After Mansard was beaten in the first race Saturday, Owner Jack Keene said that he would retire his good bread-winner and send him back to "Old Kentucky."

• • •

Trainer George Reed, the popular young trainer, who has been campaigning a select string of horses at Williams Park this winter, has departed for Arcadia.

• • •

Gilbert Rose, the unbeatable one; Flying Squirrel and Carroll will measure strides in the Juvenile Stakes soon to be decided at Williams Park.

• • •

Bookmaker Benny Myer, who recently went to Arcadia to try the game, was one of those that cut in at Williams Park Saturday.

• • •

• • •

"Canada" Jack Atkins said yesterday that he has an offer to train a big stable of thoroughbreds for a well-known Canadian owner.

• • •

Owner Frank Weir did not think May Amelia could beat Silver Stocking, but thought that his mare had a good chance to be third.

• • •

Twenty-six bookmakers cut in at Arcadia Saturday, including H. L. Jones, Nelson Jones, Joe Adams and Shoesy Graw.

• • •

Trainer Harry Mason said it was like taking candy from a baby that Sylvia Dunbar would win the Gunst Stakes.

• • •

The best horses now campaigning at Williams Park and Arcadia, will perform on the Canadian circuit.

• • •

The California Handicap, which was decided at Arcadia Saturday, was worth $5850 to the winner.

• • •

King James, winner of the Burns Handicap, captured the California Handicap at Arcadia Saturday.

• • •

Dr. Holzberg and Guy Fisher carried Barney Schreiber's colors to victory at Arcadia Saturday.

• • •

FOUND FROZEN TO DEATH ON DESERT

Resident of San Francisco and Millionaire's Grandson Dies of Exposure

BURNS, Or., Feb. 15.—Henry Miller Nickel, 22 years old, grandson of Henry Miller, millionaire cattle and land owner, was found February 11 frozen to death on Alvoid desert in the south end of this county. Nickel, whose home is in San Francisco, had been visiting at the Alvoid ranch for the past three months, and, it is supposed, was out riding horseback on Sunday and became lost, when overtaken by a snowstorm and perished. The body will be shipped to San Francisco.

FEAR DOG WHICH RAN AMUCK HAD RABIES

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Feb. 15.—Until an examination of the head of a dog, which ran amuck in Montclair, Bloomfield, Glenridge and East Orange, N. J., is completed at the Pasteur Institute, New York, considerable anxiety will be felt in the towns mentioned, for the animal bit two persons and six dogs before being killed. It apparently was suffering from rabies. Other dogs, which were bitten, were killed, but it is feared that others may have been attacked unnoticed. Charles Baker had his hand lacerated by the dog and May Holcom, a young girl, was bitten. Their wounds were cauterized, but they will probably go to the Pasteur Institute as a precautionary measure.

OFFICER OF S. P. C. A. "PINCHED" AT COCKFIGHT

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Acting on a tip, the police swooped down on one of the biggest cock fights ever held in Westchester county early Sunday morning and took in forty-nine prisoners, twenty-four birds and an assorted lot of paraphernalia used in cocking mains.

Among the prisoners was a man said to be an agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Forty-six of the men were fined $10 each, but the question of disposing of the fighting birds has proved a puzzle. The game fowls are still held by the police, crowing loudly, although locked in cells at the station house.

SENTENCED BANKER, UNDER BOND, VANISHES

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 15.—A special from Taos, N. M., says that news has been received there that Albert Twining, the former bank president of Asbury Park, N. J., sentenced to six years' imprisonment for speculating with the bank's funds in mining properties in Taos county, has disappeared and that his bondsmen are liable for $50,000. The case has been in the courts for five years and last Tuesday the Supreme Court ordered Twining to commence serving his sentence.

STOPS TRAIN ON EDGE OF BURNING BRIDGE

DENVER, Colo. Feb. 15.—A Denver and Rio Grande passenger train from Pueblo for Denver narrowly escaped running on a burning bridge east of Palmer Lake at 5:30 yesterday evening. The engineer and firemen noticed the flames in time to stop the train and an examination showed that had the train tried to cross it certainly would have been wrecked. The cause of the fire is unknown. There is a rumor that the fire was started with the intention of wrecking the train for the purpose of robbery.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FALLS DEAD IN CAR

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—An unidentified man, 45 years old, believed by the police to be F. L. Woodruff, Atlanta, Ga., dropped dead, supposedly from heart disease, on a Michigan Central passenger train bound for Detroit last night. He was preparing to retire in a Pullman sleeper when he fell dead, causing excitement among other passengers.

INVESTIGATION OF GIRLS' HOME

Fire Chief to Determine Whether Fire Regulations Are Violated

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—An investigation of the California Girls' Training Home by Fire Chief Krauth is to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock to determine whether the fire regulations are being lived up to. The investigation is at the instance of the Police and Fire Commission, whose attention has been called to the alleged unsafe fire protection in vogue.

It has been claimed that there was not sufficient protection for the thirty or so inmates in case a fire should break out at the home. This, however, does not seem to be the case, as Assistant Fire Chief Millington said today:

No Changes Made

"I inspected the home at the time of the disaster in 1906, and the same conditions prevail now as then. There is a fire escape on the building and there are two avenues of escape from the top story in case of fire. The story was decidedly premature and should never have been printed. No investigation has been made, but Chief Krauth, who is in Oakland today, will go over the house this afternoon and make a thorough examination. He may be able to discover some violation of the fire regulations that I have unwittingly overlooked."

Mrs. L. H. Jacobi, president of the home, said to a reporter for THE TRIBUNE today:

"There is absolutely nothing to the statement that appeared in a San Francisco paper this morning.

"It is a story calculated to hurt the home. I at once called up Fire Chief Krauth relative to the alleged complaint made, and he said that some one had spoken to him about the locking of the doors at the home, but he considered the complaint so unimportant that he scratched it from his list.

"The girls in the home have the greatest of liberty. They are not locked in behind barred doors, as stated. The fractious girls are sometimes locked up to keep them away from the better behaved, but even then in the event of a fire they would be amply protected and their lives are in no manner in danger. The halls are wide and well lighted, and such methods as alleged are entirely without foundation. The home is open at all times for the inspection of the public."

READY TO REPORT ON PRIMARY BILL

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Chairman Miguel Estudillo, of the Senate Committee on Elections and Election Laws, will make his report this afternoon on the Wright direct primary bill.

There will be two reports, the majority favoring passage of the bill with the clause providing for election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people stricken out and the minority contending for the measure as originally introduced.

It will be made a special order of business for some day next week, when the first serious Senate battle will take place (over the senatorial clause). The friends of the original bill still claim that they have 21 votes pledged (a majority).

Insurance Bill Reported

The Senate convened at 11 o'clock this morning. Chairman Bates of the Committee on Corporations reported favorably on the insurance bill drawn by Commissioner E. Myron Wolfe, with two minor amendments. After the adoption of the latter Senator Bates requested that the measure be rushed to print and that the measure be rushed to print and whereupon Senator Edward I. Wolfe of San Francisco raised a vigorous objection. He declared it was not such an important bill as Senator Bates implied by his request, and, after a short discussion, Senator Bates withdrew his motion and the bill will take its regular course on the file.

Tip Measure Fails

Senator H. S. McCartney's bill designed to prevent employes or agents of corporations or other business concerns from accepting any kind of bonus from other firms for favoring the latter with contracts for supplies, failed of passage this morning. The law also would forbid the servants of private households accepting tips or bribes from tradesmen for awarding them custom. The measure failed but one vote of passage.

TRIES IN VAIN TO STOP WIFE'S LEAP

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—In the glare of electric street lights, a young woman, shortly before 7 o'clock last night, stood balanced for a moment on a third floor window sill in her home. Then, as her husband's restraining hand touched her skirt, she drew a handkerchief before her eyes and plunged to the icy sidewalk thirty feet below.

She was Mrs. Emma Betti, wife of John Betti, a fruit merchant, and has been in poor health for some time. It is said that she will probably die.

Mrs. Betti is well known in Italian circles in Chicago. She was one of the leaders in the work of gathering subscriptions on Italian tag day, following the earthquake.

HOTALING NEEDS OSTEOPATHY TO LIMBER HIM UP, SAYS CRITIC

(BY ACTON DAVIES, CRITIC OF THE NEW YORK SUN.)

Once inside Ye Liberty Theater, I forgot all about the actor I had gone to see. This time it was the theater itself which knocked him out of my mind. Outside of the Hippodrome, I don't know of any theater in the East which is built on such simple and yet splendid lines. The immensity of it amazes you. And there it was with every seat filled and 200 or 300 persons standing up! There were more persons in that audience yesterday than you would find in any six average-sized Broadway theaters at any performance.

Compliments Acting of Georgrge Friend

By this time I had decided that Hotaling rather than old Will Shakespeare was the drawing card. The supply of programs was exhausted, but the doorkeeper informed me that Mr. Hotaling was playing Cassius so for an act or two in blissful ignorance I sat back and enjoyed his performance exceedingly. It was only after the forum scene, when I found a program on the floor, that I discovered that the actor who was playing Cassius was not Mr. Hotaling, but Mr. George Friend. The star, it seems, had elected to play Brutus at the matinee.

Now, if Mr. Hotaling is really in earnest in his determination to establish a new theater which is to develop actors as well as plays, he has in himself a large amount of raw material which will bear development. Of course, if he had been content to come forward merely as a member of the cast, without parading all these new theater theories, which sound so glib on paper but which in experiment are so almost impossible to carry out, it would be easy to dismiss his performance purely on the grounds of its respectable mediocrity. He has a strong resonant voice which he uses in a conventional and stagy way. He reads his lines a good deal like a deacon, a little like an old-time actor, and not at all like a human being.

Needs Osteopathy

When I say that his Brutus reminds one of Richard Mansfield's I am paying a compliment neither to the living nor the dead. Manfield's Brutus was notoriously conceded to be the most affected and bloodless of all his portrayals. It was little more or less than Beau Brummel in a toga. Mr. Hotaling has evidently studied Brummel very carefully. When he engages that corps of theatrical specialists who are to bring his new theater into being he must not neglect to secure the services of a first-class osteophathist. That is, of course, if he intends to make himself one of his new theater's successful graduates. At present on the stage, he suffers disastrously from arms and legs. Like Miss Anna Held's eyes, he seems unable to make them behave. Where art has failed him, possibly osteopathy may have the desired limbering effect.

DENY WATER IS CAUSE OF ILLNESS

New Supply to Be Given Alameda Which Investigation Is Carried on

ALAMEDA, Feb. 13.—At the meeting of the Board of Health and the representatives of the People's Water Company this morning a general discussion of the alleged impure water supply was taken up. The water company agreed to remedy any defects that may be found in the reservoir and piping and in the meantime the water is to be shut off and the city supplied from another source.

It is claimed by the board that the water in the wells in the vicinity of Fruitchburg, seventy-two in number, is contaminated and unfit to drink.

Secretary S. M. Marks of the water company, Prof. Hyde and Chemical Expert Philbrick were present and gave their version, but would not admit that the sickness that swept over Alameda was caused by the water.

Method of Elimination

"You do not mean to state that the water alone has caused all the sickness?" asked Marks.

"Well, we have eliminated almost everything else," replied Dr. M. W. Brown, chairman of the health committee of the council. Dr. Brown then quoted several instances which tended to prove his theory that it was the water alone that caused the illness and he was substantiated by Dr. J. E. Clark and other members of the board who had had similar experiences and had investigated the water supply.

"If there is anything unsanitary about the water then we will make it right at once. We wish to do this. Let the matter of passing judgment be held until proof can be obtained that the water is impure," said Marks.

CAVANAUGHS HAVE THIRTEEN NOW

Stork Brings 10-Pound Boy Valentine to Home of "Family Pensioner"

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—That P. F. Cavanaugh is following closely the lines of the Roosevelt policy that it is the duty of every American to raise large families is borne out in the advent of the stork at his home, 2132 Clement avenue, yesterday morning, and the dignified bird brought a 10-pound baby boy.

The name and fame of the Cavanaugh family has gone throughout the country from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast. Cavanaugh recently introduced a bill in the State Legislature petitioning for a pension for the father and mother of twelve children, and the arrival of the little Cavanaugh passes this mark by one, making a record of a baker's dozen for the family.

"It is not a funny valentine, either, for it is as pretty as a peach. Its cheeks are rosy and fat, and to see the mother with the little son is a cure for the blues or any ailment."

The name of the young man has not been decided upon, but the proud father states that "Valentine" will surely be a part of his full name.

Cavanaugh has not given up his pet scheme for the pension bill which provides for financial aid to the father of twelve children, and is still lobbying for the passage of the measure, which is now in committee. The bill was introduced by Senator Gus Hartman, a bachelor clubman of San Francisco, who promised to see the measure through.

HODGKINS' ASSAILANT DYING OF CONSUMPTION

J. D. Clifton, the highwayman, who shot and wounded Detective St. Clair Hodgkins in a desperate fight on Twenty-fourth street, was charged with assault with intent to commit murder this morning by I. M. Parry, together with a prior conviction. In event of his conviction in the Superior Court, Clifton will undoubtedly receive life. The robber, who on a previous occasion, was convicted of robbery and burglary, is suffering from consumption, and will not live, the physicians say, more than a few years.

DESPERATE FIGHT OCCURS IN JAIL

JOE PIA,
The Gardener Who Was Positively Identified by Miss Elizabeth Grapes as Man Who Brutally Assaulted Her.

Turnkey Is Beaten Nearly Senseless Before He Is Rescued by Sheriff Taylor.

SAN RAFAEL, Feb 15. — Using his heavy pistol as a club, Sheriff Taylor took a hand barely in time in a desperate fight in the jail here yesterday afternoon between John Mills, a negro prisoner, and Louis Hughes, the prison turnkey.

He knocked Mills senseless and rescued Hughes.

Mills had been arrested for complicity in the attack made upon Elizabeth Grapes, the young woman who was left nude in a lot and who identified Giuseppe Pia, a gardener, as her assailant.

When Sheriff Taylor rushed to the aid of his deputy, the negro had all but overpowered him and was trying to take a pistol out of Hughes' pocket.

Hughes said Mills had been making such a noise in his cell that it was almost impossible for the Sheriff and the District Attorney to keep up a conversation, and that he went to Mills' cell and opened the door to remonstrate with him. Mills sprang at him and grappling him around the neck had almost choked him into insensibility when Sheriff Taylor went to the rescue.

HAMMOCK CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO KILL

Robert Hammock, the aged admirer of Mrs. Mary Thoman, whom he shot three times in the head and afterward tried to commit suicide, was formally charged today with an assault with intent to commit murder. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

Widows are so good-natured it's hard to believe they were ever wives.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A buoyant rise in prices of stocks accompanied the resumption of trading, after the three days' closed interval. The Erie stocks were affected by the authorization of bond issues. There were running sales of 7000 shares of the common stock at 32⅝ and 12¼ compared with the last sale at 37⅝. During the first hour Atlantic Coast Line gained 5½, Union Pacific 2⅛, Reading and Louisville and Nashville 2.

Increasing demand and a wider distribution of buying orders caused a further substantial advance. Both Reading and Union Pacific were absorbed constantly on a rising scale, which had much to do with encouraging the traders to buy other stocks. Atlantic Coast Line gained 3⅞, Union Pacific 2⅝, Reading and Louisville and Nashville 2. Great Northern preferred 2½, and Northern Pacific, Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, St. Paul and American Smelting 2 each.

Some of the railroad equipment and New York public utilities stocks became prominent during the interval after midday, but the general speculation was light and prices were not changed much.

The market closed firm. The selling pressure was lifted from the copper group in the last hour and prices hardened again, some of the railroad stocks recovering to best prices.

Bonds were strong.

WHEAT MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Wheat—Firm. May, $1.87½ asked, cash, $1.75@1.77½.

Barley—Firm. May, $1.40 ¼ bid, $1.41⅝ asked; December, $1.23 bid $1.20½ asked; cash, $1.38¾@1.42½.

Corn—Firm. Large yellow, $1.65@1.70.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The bull campaign in wheat was checked temporarily today by the severe storm which cut off telegraph communication with many parts of the country and confined business mainly to local operations. Owing to lower prices at Liverpool, sentiment in the pit was bearish and prices declined about ½c from Saturday's final quotations. May opened ⅛@¼c lower at $1.13⅝@1.13¾, sold at $1.13⅝ and then declined to $1.13⅜.

Despite the narrowness of trade, the May delivery was forced up to $1.14⅝, the highest point for the season. The market weakened late in the session, owing to a liberal increase in the amount of wheat on passage. July and September deliveries were especially weak.

The close was weak, with May ⅛@¼c lower at $1.13⅝@1.13¾. The following prices prevailed at the close of the day's session:

Wheat—May, $1.13⅝@1.13¾; July, $1.00⅛; September, 95⅛c, December, 96c.

Corn—February, 61⅝c; May, 64⅝c; July, 64¼@64⅜c; September, 64¼c.

Oats—May, 53⅝c, July, 48⅛c; September, 40⅞c.

Clover—March, $9.30.

Timothy March $3.50.

SAN LEANDRO HAS BUILDING BOOM

Trustees Decide to Advertise Town, Showing Its Advantages to the World

SAN LEANDRO, Feb 14—San Leandro citizens are taking steps to advertise further the town of San Leandro to the outside world At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees a committee was appointed to secure the services of a photographer for the purpose of taking views of the town Instead of issuing a pamphlet ectolling the advantages of the place space will be reserved in some of the Sunday papers and the facilities and beauties of the town will be thus advertised in photograph and prose

The citizens believe this method superior to anything yet considered In the opinion of many prominent residents of this place San Leandro is on the verge of a boom Already contracts for a number of business blocks have been let and several more are being contemplated The natural advantages of the town is such that with a little advertising it is thought the place will not only become popular as a bedroom for other cities but new enterprises will be established and a new era of advancement started

MUDDY AND NUDE, RUNS IN STREETS

Wearing Only Hat, Inmate of Infirmary Escapes and Startles Citizens.

ELMHURST, Feb 15—Howard Aydelotte an inmate of the County Infirmary, escaped his keepers last night and clad in nothing but an old hat, ran aimlessly for many miles before he was finally captured in Elmhurst by Deputy Constable Sharkey and taken to the insane ward of the Receiving Hospital where he is being held The demented man had fallen many times and was covered with cuts and bruises from head to foot

Aydelotte was first seen on the Boulevard by several women and children who fled in terror from him The demented man finally made his way to the business portion of Elmhurst and ran madly down the main street He was seen by Constable Sharkey and a number of residents who took after the fleeing man He gave his pursuers a merry chase for several blocks but was finally captured in front of Joe Williams saloon

Constable Sharkey procured clothing for the unfortunate man and took him to the hospital Some time ago Aydelotte escaped from the Infirmary and hid in the Fruitvale hills

Young Musician Valentine Party Hostess

MISS LAURETTA FOX, Fruitvale Girl, in Whose Honor Party Is Given.

FRUITVALE Feb 15—Mr and Mrs Fox gave a valentine party in honor of their daughter Miss Lauretta, at their home here Friday evening

The living room and reception hall were tastefully decorated with red hearts carnations and white lilies The stairway was lined in red and lighted effectively with Japanese lanterns The dining-room color scheme was red, with flags here and there in honor of Lincoln's birthday A Cupid hung from the chandelier holding a heart with ribbons, which extended to each plate ending with a place card Potted plants completed the decorations

Musical Program

Music was the principal feature of the evening Miss Fox being a talented musician A violin solo was rendered by Lewis Higgins piano solos by Harold Jones and Walter Howell and vocal solos by Carl Lotz, Oscar Helland and Walter Howell

A magic distribution of heart souvenirs was a feature of the evening after which a dainty supper was served Those who shared in the pleasure of the evening were

Miss Lauretta Fox
Miss Mabel Helland	Harold Jones
Miss Olga Olsen	Oscar Helland
Miss Dagmar Boyer	Harold Grimes
Miss Alta Gillette	Carl Lotz
Miss Vera White	Walter Howell
Miss Ruby Fox	Homer White

DESPONDENT MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Machinist at Mare Island Lives Hour After Blowing Out Brains

VALLEJO Feb 15 Mickel Fredericks a machinist employed at the Mare Island Navy Yard committed suicide at his home in this city at 6 o'clock this morning by blowing his brains out with a 22-caliber revolver Fredericks had been brooding over a fancied illness for some time and became despondent with the result that he determined to end his troubles this morning He was a particular chum of Bolace Skiro who committed suicide here several weeks ago by blowing his head off with a shotgun while brooding over illness and the untimely end of his companion is thought to have prompted him to commit his terrible deed A remarkable feature about Frederick's suicide is the fact that he lived about an hour after blowing his brains out

ROW BOATS IN ALVARADO STREETS

Town Surrounded by Water Which Is Several Feet Deep in Some Thoroughfares.

ALVARADO Feb 15—Rain continues to fall in Alvarado with no signs of stopping and as a result the town is experiencing another flood caused by overflowing of Alameda creek The low lands are completely overflowed but no damage has occurred to speak of

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company around Alvarado has suffered no damage from the present storm All trains are running as usual

The county bridge near the Lowrie Butchertown is reported to be in danger

In fact the whole surrounding country around Alvarado is under water and the only way of going in or out of town is by the elevated roads which are high generally above the flood mark although in some places flooded but passable

During these floods in town boat riding can be enjoyed in some of the lower streets where flood water is three to four feet deep

These floods are beneficial to the farming lands of this vicinity as deposits of sediment will make rich agricultural land

ON TRIP AFOOT AROUND WORLD

Part of Eight Year Journey to Be Tramped Through South America

HAYWARD Feb 15—Dr L Zandouzy of Gibraltar passed through this place Saturday on a walk around the world He started five years ago on June 1 and expects to complete the circumnavigation of the globe on June 1 1912 He visited Pimental's barber shop here long enough to have his hair cut and then started on his way for San Jose After walking through the southern portion of the State Zandouzy will go to South America, where he will tour on foot

Dr Zandouzy is 41 years of age and his specialty is bacteriology upon which subject he has written several books Before he started on his undertaking he was suffering from ill health and started on his trip with the idea of building himself up He has done so and his muscular frame tells of a robust constitution that has braved the storms of two continents

When last seen by Hayward citizens who had congregated to bid him farewell Dr Zandouzy was hiking it down Castro street toward Niles seemingly ignoring the two feet of mud in the unrepaired section

Cheap Help Ruins Eyes

Some optical houses publicly advise you to demand the services of their chief adjuster or his assistant In other words, they tell you to ask for the high-priced, competent man but dodge the cheap, incompetent one.

We conduct our business on the principle that you are entitled to the best possible service all the time, whether you be rich or poor, whether the price you pay be high or low. For that reason all our opticians are thoroughly competent. They are all experienced, they are all good adjusters, they all know their business through and through, from one end of it to the other. No cheap help will ever wait on you in this house.

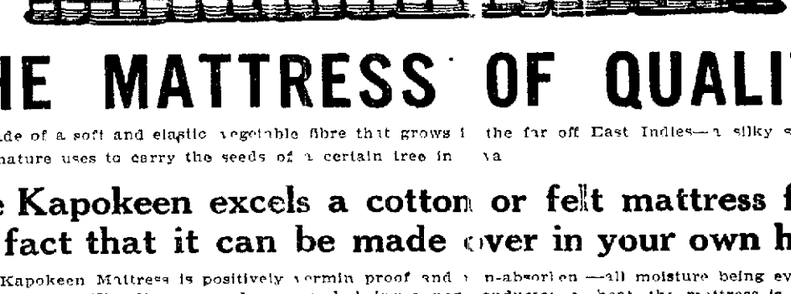
Kapokeen TRADE MARK



THE MATTRESS OF QUALITY

Made of a soft and elastic vegetable fibre that grows in the far off East Indies—a silky substance which nature uses to carry the seeds of a certain tree in [illegible]ya

The Kapokeen excels a cotton or felt mattress from the fact that it can be made over in your own home

A Kapokeen Mattress is positively vermin proof and non-absorbent—all moisture being evaporated and thrown off The fibre never decays and, being a non-conductor of heat the mattress is warm in winter and cool in summer

Properly cared for, a Kapokeen Mattress will last a lifetime An occasional sun bath will renew its vitality, puffing up the fibre like new They are manufactured and guaranteed by the John Breuner Company.

MEETING PROPOSED TO BETTER SCHOOL WORK

FRUITVALE Feb 15—Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock there will be held in Ward Memorial Church in Lower Fruitvale a meeting of the men of the men of the community It is desired at that time to discuss the problem regarding the schools in Lower Fruitvale There has been considerable dissatisfaction because the younger students have had to cross the railroad tracks in order to go to school and the school authorities have already said that if the citizens of that community will furnish a school house that they will provide for a teacher for the primary grades At this meeting ways and means for securing a lot and funds for building will be discussed It is hoped that all citizens of the district will attend this meeting

TWO-YEAR-OLD SON OF ROBERT NORLING DIES

FRUITVALE Feb 15—Robert Francis Norling the 2-yearold son of Robert Norling of Grand avenue Fitchburg, passed away yesterday at the home of his parents The funeral services were held this morning from the residence Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

NEW DEPUTY CONSTABLE TO WEAR BLUE UNIFORM

FRUITVALE Feb 15—A new deputy constable has been added to the night watch in Fruitvale He is A Granville Minor has served on the police forces of several Eastern cities and is almost as big as Constable Carroll himself wears a blue uniform and a star the outside of his coat, and is the first uniformed patrolman to make his headquarters in Fruitvale

'Many people think that a uniform is superfluous' said Minner yesterday "but in my experience as a policeman it has stood me in good stead many a time I believe in wearing my star in plain sight where the law-breakers can see it It has a tendency to make them respect the law I am willing to take my chances on being spotted by the crooks I can shoot quicker than most men and seldom miss my mark No plain clothes for me

Minner's beat will be from the county road to Diamond. He will go on duty at 8 p. m. and report off at 4 a. m.

VALLEJO Feb 15—The report of the various delegates to the Vallejo Trades and Labor Council, made at the regular meeting of the central body, show that a big fund is being raised to fight the decision of Judge Wright in jailing Gompers Mitchell and Morrison The law and legislative committee of the council will submit resolutions next Friday night condemning the ruling of Judge Wright and it is stated that the jurist will be handled
